STATE BUREAU SECRETARY TO TALK IN MARION

Murray D. Lincoln Will Address Marion County Farmers' Picnic

MEETING WEDNESDAY

Event Promoted by Local Farm Agency and Kiwanis Club

Murray D Lincoln, executive secretary of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation, Columbus will be the main speaker at the annual Marion County farmers picnic to be held Wednesday in Scarpino's Hall.

Mr Lincoln is prominent in farm circles and is one of the best known men in Ohio. He is among the Ohioans who have received the honor of being named a Who's Who. Local officials announce that he is probably the greatest speaker that has ever yet appeared on an agricultural program here.

300 Expected

The farmers' picnic is promoted by the Marion County Farm Bureau and local Kiwanis Club. Three hundred farmers are expected to attend and the Kiwanians will hold their regular weekly luncheon Wednesday noon, joining the farmers at Scharngers Hall at that time.

The meeting will start at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning. An old time fiddlers' group will entertain at various intervals during the morning session. Attorney John H. Clark of this city is the principal speaker of the morning. Mr. Lincoln will address the Kiwanians at noon and will speak to the farmers at 2 o'clock, Wednesday afternoon.

The Marion County granges and other farm organizations are invited to attend. In fact an invitation is extended to all farmers in the county who wish to attend.

Special Service

A recent report from farm bureau circles received here states that in its eight years, the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation has established a service company which is doing more than a $4,300,000 a year business in supplying fertilizer, feed and seeds and in handling grain. It has set up a state wide system of livestock shipping which marketed livestock having a net value of more than $13,000,000 in 1925.

Marion County farmers will benefit by a 50 cents a ton decrease in the freight rate for fertilizer, recently obtained by the traffic department of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation under the direction of C. H. Long of Columbus. The live stock marketing and wool marketing departments have also worked wonders during the last year, Secretary Roland Leeper of the Marion County Farm Bureau said today.

Various reports of this nature will be given at the meeting Wednesday by the secretaries of the county organizations. It is to be an all day meeting with luncheon at the hall.

Mystery Connected With Alleged Suicide of Virden Boy No Nearer Solution

Visit to Crystal Lake, Where Abandoned Auto and Note Were Found, Fails To Reveal Body in Ice-Free Water

Mystery connected with the alleged suicide of Carlton Virden, 18 year old business college student who is supposed to have committed suicide on Dec 2 by drowning himself in Crystal Lake, north of Marion, has become more puzzling with the discovery that the youth's body has not risen to the surface of the lake.

This became known today when Deputy Sheriff Vane Ierland stated that he visited the lake, when it was practically clear of ice as the result of a long period of warm weather, and found no signs of the alleged suicide victim's remains.

Conducts Search

Fred B Scheriff, manager of Crystal Lake Park, states that a man in his employe went to the lake and conducted a search with the same results.

City and county officials state that these reports indicate one of two things --either that young Virden's body is caught under a ledge or some other projection on the side or bottom of the lake, or that his alleged suicide was merely a ruse perpetrated to cover up his tracks in running away from home.

Both of these theories have been advanced as solutions of the mystery ever since dragging operations in progress at the lake for more than two weeks after the boy's disappearance failed to get results. Freezing weather, which covered the lake with a thick sheet of ice during most of the winter has made a continuance of the search impossible during the last two months.

May Get Diver

Assuming that it is actually a case of suicide and that the boy's body is in the water it is likely that a diver will be employed to explore the lake as soon as weather conditions permit. Ice has again formed preventing a resumption of the search.

It was on the morning of Dec 2 that young Virden's Ford sedan was found abandoned on a driveway leading into Crystal Lake Park with a note on the front seat in his handwriting "A plain case of suicide. Blame no one but myself. Carlton A pocketbook containing a $10 bill and the boy's photograph was also found in the car. Later a cap, identified as the one worn by him when last seen alive, was found in the water near the west bank of Crystal Lake.

U. S. HIGHLY GRATIFIED OVER JAPAN'S RESPONSE

Attitude of Pacific Power Favorable Toward Coolidge's Disarmament Proposal

Washington, Feb. 21—The American government is "highly gratified" at Japan's favorable response to President Coolidge's disarmament proposal, it was announced here today.

Secretary of State Kellogg issued this statement:

"I am highly gratified at the reply of the Japanese government which reflects the spirit of full cooperation in which the principal naval powers must approach the problem of competitive building, if a real solution is to be found.

"The Japanese suggestion that the discussions should not begin until June seems to me to be not at all consistent with this government's proposal, which was that the negotiations should take place during the forthcoming meeting of the preparatory commission. It is probable that the preparatory commission and its sub-committees will be in session for several months."

ITALY'S REPLY SEEN AS FLAT REJECTION

Rome, Feb. 21—Italy's reply to President Coolidge's disarmament proposals which was handed to Ambassador Fletcher, today, declares that Italy does not feel it possible to agree to arrest and limit her own armaments while others are enabled to increase their armaments.

Italy also states that she can not dissociate the interdependency of land and sea armaments.

This note is couched in soft diplomatic phraseology and although it does not close the door for further proposals, but like the French reply is considered here as tantamount to flat rejection.

SHOTGUN TAKES LIFE OF WOULD-BE ROBBER

Rigged To Discharge in Case of Burglary Weapon Fulfills Purpose

Cleveland, Feb 21—A shotgun, which was fixed to discharge in event an attempted burglary, today had successfully fulfilled the purpose at the grocery and butcher shop of John Hart man here.

As a result the body of an unidentified man is in the city morgue awaiting Bertillon measurement.

A pistol was found lying on the floor near the victim.

Hartman's place has been robbed three times since Christmas. After the third theft, Hartman determined to put an end to the looting. He concealed the weapon in the wall beside a store window through which robbers had made their entrance. He attached a cord to the trigger of the shotgun and fastened the cord to a lever which had been arranged inside a box directly under the window.

The pressure of the would-be burglar's foot upon the box early this morning discharged the weapon according to police and he received the full force of the charge.

DEXTER HAZEN RESIGNS DEPUTY SHERIFF POST

Will Enter Government Narcotic Law Enforcement Service; Deal Names Brother

W Dexter Hazen has resigned as chief deputy sheriff of Marion County to enter government service in the department of W H. Walker federal administrator of prohibition and narcotic law enforcement in the Northern District of the United States with main headquarters in Columbus.

Announcement of Deputy Hazen's resignation, which is to be effective next Monday, Feb. 28, was made today by Sheriff James A Deal, who stated that his brother, George W Deal, 46, a farmer living a short distance southwest of Meeker has been appointed to take Hazens place. Hazen's new position will carry a substantial increase in salary over that of deputy sheriff. As deputy he was paid $175 a month.

Although not definitely informed regarding what his duties will be to the federal service, Mr Hazen will probably be assigned to field work.

In announcing the resignation today, Sheriff Deal expressed regret over the prospect of severing official relationship with his chief deputy, stating that their association has been pleasant at all times and that Depty Hazen has rendered exceptionally efficient service.

Hazen has ruled the office of chief deputy since Sheriff Deal's first term of office began on Jan 1 1925.

George W Deal, who will succeed Deputy Hazen on next Monday, is well known throughout the county and especially in the western section where he has resided in Farmington for more than 20 years. He was formerly associated with his brother, Sheriff Deal, in operating their farm near Meeker, this partnership having terminated when the sheriff took office in January 1925.

MARION NOT IN AREA HARDEST HIT BY STORM

Only 2½ Inches Reported Here; 10-Inch Fall in Other Sections

DRIFTS COVER STATE

Wire Communication Halted, Interurbans Held Up; Bus Schedules Suspended

Walk traffic and communication in most sections of the state interrupted yesterday by the storm which swept over it, Marion got off comparatively easy with only a few minor auto accidents due to slippery pavements.

The city had a snow fall of only two and one half inches while the rest of the state was buried under a fall that reached 10 inches in some sections. The storm was heavy on all side of this city. The snow fall was heavy enough in Luna and in Columbus to tie up rail traffic and stop wire communication temporarily. Saturday night and Sunday morning. Bus schedules out of Marion were slowed up somewhat by slippery roads, but there was no tie up of traffic as there was on other sections.

Little Traffic

There was little auto traffic in Marion yesterday, but even with the caution displayed by most drivers there were several accidents. One driver reported breaking an axle on his car and there were numerous cars with broken wheels, caused by skidding into curbs at intersections, when wheels failed to hold on the packed snow.

The temperature got down to 17 degrees above last night, the lowest it has been for a month and failing to bear out the Saturday forecast of rising temperature. Clear skies for tonight, with rising temperature and rain in the northern section of the state in the prediction for Tuesday.

OHIO BLANKETED BY HEAVIEST SNOW

Columbus Feb 21 Blanketed under the heaviest snowfall of the winter Ohio today was recovering from the effects of a week end storm which sent the mercury downward interrupted wire communication, disrupted or suspended bus traffic in many sections of the state, and blocked highways with huge drifts.

Warm weather with rain in the southern and central sections of the state were indicated for today.

The Ohio snowfall was part of a storm which swept over the entire Middle West from Chicago to Pittsburgh, bringing in its wake heavy snows and temperatures which checked the premature spring like weather which had prevailed.

Interurban and city street car traffic was interfered with to some extent in the vicinity of Columbus by the snow, but emergency crews with snow-plows quickly restored the schedules.

MYSTERY VEILS ATTACK ON TWO MARION GIRLS

Man Escapes After Younger Sister Battles Would-Be Kidnaper

A mysterious attack upon Miss Esther Huffman 21, of 109 St Clair st, by an unknown man who forced an entrance to her home early Sunday morning in what is believed to have been an attempted kidnaping, is being investigated today by the local police department.

Screams of Miss Huffman and her 13 year old sister, Helen, as well as their courageous battle against the intruder, halted the kidnaping attempt and put the man to rout. As other members of the family rushed to the girls assistance, he escaped by jumping through a downstairs window. He had effected an entrance through the same opening by removing a screen and forcing the window open.

The attack occurred shortly after 5 o'clock Sunday morning in a downstairs room where Miss Huffman and her younger sister were sleeping.

Grabs Oldest Girl

Awakened by a noise in the room, the two sisters discovered the man standing beside their bed. After striking to muffle their screams by holding bed clothing over them, he seized the older sister by the feet and started to drag her toward the open window.

The 13 year old girl rendered valuable aid in the battle which ensued by throwing her arms about her sister and belaboring the would be kidnaper with a volley of well aimed kicks.

Awakened by the disturbance, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Huffman, parents of the two girls, rushed from their upstairs bedroom and the intruder fled, plunging headlong through the open window. He escaped in the direction of the Marion Packing Co plant, west of the Huffman home, police were informed.

Find Knife

That the man may have planned a more serious attack upon Miss Huffman or members of her family was indicated by the fact that he was armed with a saw edged knife, the blade of which measured almost a foot in length. This weapon was found on the floor where it had been dropped by the assailant as he made his get away.

Miss Huffman was slightly bruised about her arms and shoulders but aside from these injuries and nervousness resulting from the shock, neither sister suffered any ill effects from their experience.

They were able to partially describe the assailant, although his features were not discernable in the semi-darkness of their room. They have informed police that he was of medium stature, apparently about 30 years of age, had dark hair and wore a mackinaw.

$15,000 BLAZE

Fremont, Feb. 21 -Neighbors today were caring for the family of John Tucker, general storekeeper at Wiltmore near here, following a $15,000 fire caused by an overheated furnace. Members of the family escaped in their night clothes. The store, lodge rooms and dance hall were destroyed.

EIGHT GUARDS LOSE LIVES AS VESSEL SINKS

Thousands of Dollars Worth of Property Damaged in Storm

MOUNTAINOUS SEAS

Tide Highest in 50 Years; Ships Splintered and Piers Smashed

Boston Feb 21 -Twelve dead and thousands of dollars worth of property destroyed was the toll by a northeast gale and snow storm that still shrieked along the northern Atlantic seaboard today.

Eight coastguardsmen, fought a losing battle against the raging sea and 70 mile an hour gale off Cape Cod, as the 70 foot patrolboat, CG 238, went to pieces. Two bodies were washed ashore.

On the mainland, William Roach, Quincy died from exposure while operating a snow plow.

Charles S Cuech, Montreal, was found dead from exposure in a doorway.

Richard F. Barry of Malden, blinded by snow, was killed by a taxicab.

Thomas Rooney of Leominster was found dead from exposure in a snow bank in that city.

Bodies Are Sought

Coastguardsmen patrolled the bleak long stretch of sandy shore on the outer arm of Cape Cod for the bodies of six of their mates who perished in the death dealing gale as the picket boat, CG 238 dragged its anchors and was dashed to pieces with eight souls off the dreaded outer peaked Hill Bar. Two bodies those of Boatswain's Mate Charles Albert Freeburn, 34, second class, Philadelphia, and Boatswain's Mate Raymond H Clark, 30, of Dorchester came ashore in the giant surf.

Other victims of the little coastguard boat, who gamely fought against the elements and lost, were, Jessie B Hitchbach, 36, boatswain, Oak Bluffs; Cornelius Rhea, 28, chief motor machinist's mate, Boston; Clarence Alexander, 20, ship's cook, Greenville, S. C.; Leo Stanley Krzyzanoski, Cicero, Ill.; Frank Carrol McCausland, 23, motor machinist's mate, second class, of Portland, Me., Joseph P. Maxim, motor machinist's mate, second class, Dorchester.

Mountainous Seas

Coastguardsmen ashore who watched helplessly, believe that the six were lashed to a lifecraft. Time after time the coastguardsmen from the shore put off to the rescue, but each time were beaten back by the wind and sea. The CG 238 had signalled she was dragging her anchors and hope at first was pinned on the arrival in time of two destroyers from Boston. Then a steamship appeared but apparently did not see the signals ashore. Next hope was pinned on the possibility of the little craft riding the outer bar and standing on the inner bar. Coastguardsmen had breeches buoy ready. But the CG-238 with the men huddled in the small pilot house and with the radio gone drifted onto the outer peaked hill bar, "ocean graveyard" of many sea craft.

Borne in on the crest of the highest tide registered on this coast for 60 years, the high wind rolled up mountainous seas which splintered ships, smashed piers and jetties and flooded

QUEEN MARIE PEEVED, SAYS HER ATTENDANT

Daily Accosted with Query: "Hey, Queen, How's the Old Man?"

Chicago, Feb. 21—"My son was right when he said Americans were a flock of swine."

This statement is attributed to Queen Marie of Roumania in a copyrighted article said to have been written by one of her attendants, appearing today in the Chicago Herald-Examiner.

The queen also complained that during her recent visit to America she was insulted daily on the streets with such remarks as "Hey, Queen, how's the old man?"

"What can you expect from a people who always refer to their president by his first name," the queen is also credited in the article with saying.

Meet Your New Friends on Comic Page; Thimble Theater, Tillie on Star Staff

But read this first, before turning to Page 11.

Some time ago The Star sent to all of its subscribers in Marion a questionnaire asking them to rate the various features of The Star in the order of their popularity with the readers.

With the results of the questionnaires it was hoped to give readers of The Star a more interesting newspaper—if that is possible.

Several weeks ago "Harold Teen" was substituted for "Just Like a Man" on the comic page. The merit in this change already has been made known to The Star by the comments of its many readers.

Today The Star introduces two more new comic strips "Thimble Theater and "Tillie, the Toiler." They will take the place of "Penny Ante" and "Spark Plug." The Star believes its readers will like the new strips immensely. The characters of Olive Oil, Castor Oil, Ham Gravy and Cylinda in "Thimble Theater" will become old friends, while the snappy Tillie will take a place with Polly, Ann Jackson and the youngsters of "Regular Fellows."

Here is a key to the plot of "Thimble Theater:" Castor married Cylinda while the latter was an amnesia victim. Her father is a millionaire who doesn't care to have anything to do with his new son-in-law. Castor has been working for the last two weeks on an invention—working with atoms and evaporation—and it turns out to be non-parkable chewing gum. Castor is a brother to Olive while Ham Gravy is Olive's sweetie.

Tillie is a wise-cracking stenog in a city office. You won't need a key to Tillie—just turn to Page 11 and begin.

WITH MERCURY NEAR ZERO GRASS PLOTS CATCH FIRE

Two Calls Answered by Firemen Saturday Night; No Damage

With winter weather prevailing, sending the mercury down toward the zero mark, the local fire department had the unusual experience of receiving two calls within little more than an hour, Saturday night, to the southwest section of the city where fields of grass had caught fire.

The first call came from Oakland Heights at 7:50 o'clock flames having started from some unknown cause in a field near the intersection of Sheridan-rd and Barkway. The owner of a garage which was menaced by the blaze had extinguished it before the firemen arrived.

At 8:50 o'clock a summons came from a fire alarm box on S. Prospect st near the corporation line, grass along the Pennsylvania railway having caught fire from engine sparks. The blaze swept a three-corner plot of ground south of the city.

No damage resulted from either fire. Firemen answered both calls in Chief McFarland's car, taking along emergency equipment.

JAMES H. EYMON SPEAKS AT MINISTERS' MEETING

Says Remedy for Crime Rests with Citizens and Not in Pulpits

Attorney James H. Eymon addressed members of the Marion County Ministerial Association at their meeting this morning in the library auditorium. He chose for his topic, "Humanity Against Crime." "The remedy for crime is not in the pulpit nor the officers of the law, but in the people themselves," Mr. Eymon stated. "The people should say what they should say and do what they should do. The law book is the Bible and in the Bible is the book of the law known as the Ten Commandments."

It was voted to send letters expressing good wishes for speedy recoveries to Dr. J. D. Darling, pastor of Wesley M. E. Church, who is ill in Portsmouth, and Rev. C. L. Allen, pastor of Calvary Evangelical Church, who is ill at his home, E. Church-st. Plans were made to cooperate with the Y. M. C. A. by presenting some phase of the work of the organization from the pulpit before May 1, and also to have the Y. M. C. A representative from New York City to address the association at a meeting at that time. The next meeting will be in two weeks.

RECORD ATTENDANCE

Lee Street C. E. Society Has Large Representation

A record attendance of 47 marked the meeting of members of the Christian Endeavor Society last night at the Lee Street Presbyterian Church. The church attendance last night also was large it was announced today.

Members of the Marion Steam Shovel Band will give a program at the services next Sunday night when the pastor, Rev. J. M. Fisher will preach on the subject, "When It Rains, It Pours."

DR. DARLING'S CONDITION IS REPORTED UNIMPROVED

R. W. Kauble, Cleveland-av, went to Portsmouth today, and tomorrow will be accompanied home by his father-in-law, Dr. J. D. Darling, 266 Orchard-st, pastor of Wesley M. E. Church. Dr. Darling has been ill for several days at the home of a niece. His condition was unimproved today, it was reported.

One of several noted women astronomers who are connected with Harvard Observatory is Miss Antonia C. Maury, whose classification of stars was the forerunner of modern scientific analyses.

TIRED STOMACHS COME TO LIFE

And Digest Heavy Meals Just Like a Boy

Diapepsin is probably the most powerful aid there is when the stomach seems worn out. It enables you to get away with foods that so often cause the utmost misery. Pie, cheese, cream, sausage, seasoned stews and foods that frighten a dyspeptic even to think of, are as modified milk to a cooing infant when followed by Diapepsin.

A host of people are denying themselves half the pleasure of life hunting for patent, prepared foods that don't meet their needs. For after all it is the state of the stomach secretions that counts. Diapepsin adds to the secretions and actually works on the starches, meats, eggs, cream, etc., and that is what a tired, feeble stomach needs.

The GREATER HOOVER

Why rugs stay young!

Perhaps you wonder why other women's floor coverings last so much longer than your own. A Hoover is very frequently the reason. It ends the greatest menace to rug life—the cutting, wearing action of sharp, deep-buried grit. Such dangerous dirt cannot stay in a rug that is Hoover-cleaned. "Positive Agitation" surely and unfailingly vibrates it to the surface to be suctioned away before it can damage rug fibers. Let us show you how The Hoover reaches this "unreachable" dirt. Call us up—we'll come to your house to demonstrate.

Tanlac Restores Health to Cincinnati Lady

Mrs. Elizabeth Fuhrman, 429 Klotter Ave., Cincinnati, Ohio, tells of unique experience. Ill from girlhood, she suffered acutely from stomach and nervous disorders Gives Tanlac full credit for present fine health

"Since I was sixteen years old," said Mrs. Fuhrman, "stomach and nervous troubles kept me weak and rundown. Nothing I could do seemed to overcome those distressing conditions, and I had come to the belief I could never be healthy again. The slightest exertion used to exhaust me, and I could not eat the lightest food without suffering afterwards. It lay like a lump in my stomach and caused a tight choking feeling in my chest and throat.

"But all those symptoms have disappeared and I'm enjoying the best health of my life since trying Tanlac. Instead of the old torpid drowsy feeling that dragged me down, I'm spry and active. Instead of the old headaches and dizzy spells my head is clear and free from pain. I eat, sleep and feel like an entirely new woman. Tanlac is the best ever and has my full endorsement."

Try Tanlac if you're rundown. It is nature's tonic made from roots, barks and herbs. Your druggist has it. Over 52 million bottles sold.—Adv.

PROTECTION OF STATE PARKS IS URGED AT MEET

R. T. Lewis, Marion Realtor, Attends Session of State Chamber

Urgent need of protecting state parks and forests in Ohio against vandalism was stressed at a meeting this week of an Ohio Chamber of Commerce committee of which R. T. Lewis, Marion realtor, is a member. Mr. Lewis attended the meeting held at the Deshler Hotel in Columbus and participated in discussion of this question and other matters of importance relating to plans for the committee's activities.

The committee assigned to the work of considering various phases of the state's program in connection with parks, forests and other scenic spots consists of business and professional men from various parts of the state.

Agree on List

It was agreed at the meeting this week that subjects which should form the basis of the committee's discussions and recommendations are as follows:

Upkeep of parks and forests and the preventing of vandalism.

Location of parks and places of interest.

To what extent and how these places are to be advertised and given publicity.

Whether there is need for a united system of parks and forests.

Automobile tourists are blamed for much of the vandalism and destruction in parks, forests and other places which these travelers use as stopping places.

A report of the committee's proceedings reads in part as follows:

"One of the worst evils the state has to fight is vandalism. It was pointed out that in some instances vegetation had been destroyed, tourists having taken car loads of plants, shrubs, flowers, etc., with them."

George R. Harper of Columbus, auditor of the Ohio State Life Insurance Co. and a naturalist of prominence, gave much feeling relative to unnecessary and useless destruction, saying that many of the vegetation taken away would not live.

The erection of placards, prohibiting the parking of plants, would be an aid in preventing vandalism, it was stated, and the committee urged that the signs be erected so as not to be disfiguring to the parks. It was also urged that the parks be policed.

Passes Resolution

The session culminated in the committee passing a resolution urging the board of directors of the Ohio Chamber of Commerce to take all necessary steps to secure more efficient care, control and supervision of all state parks and forests.

During the meeting Mr. Lewis extended an invitation to the committee to attend the dedication of the Harding memorial to be held in Marion next fall.

The next meeting is scheduled to be held at Hillsboro, in southwestern Ohio. Several parks are located near Hillsboro and will be inspected by the committee.

ORDINANCE NO. 2444
DETERMINING TO PROCEED WITH THE IMPROVEMENT OF WILDWOOD COURT FROM PROSPECT STREET TO EASTERN TERMINUS, BY GRADING, SETTING CURBS AND CROSSINGS, CONSTRUCTING THE NECESSARY DRAINS AND RETAINING WALLS, GUTTERS AND CATCH BASINS, AND PAVING THE ROADWAY WITH A SUBSTANTIAL PAVING IMATERIAL.

Be it resolved by the Council of the City of Marion, State of Ohio, three-fourths of all the members elected thereto concurring:

Section 1. That it is hereby determined by the Council of the City of Marion, Ohio, to proceed with the improvement of Wildwood Court in the City of Marion, Ohio, from Prospect Street to the Eastern Terminus, by grading, setting curbs and crossings, constructing the necessary drains and retaining walls, gutters and catch basins, and paving the roadway with any substantial paving material, in accordance with Resolution No. 2215, passed December 27, 1926, and in accordance with the plans and specifications, estimates and profiles prepared by the City Engineer and now on file in the office of the Director of Public Service, which plans, specifications, estimates and profiles were heretofore approved.

Section 2. That all claims for damages resulting therefrom shall be judicially inquired into after the completion of the proposed improvement.

Section 3. That the whole cost of said improvement, less 1-50th thereof, and the cost of intersections shall be assessed by the front frontage upon the following described lots and lands, to-wit: All lots and lands bounding and abutting upon the proposed improvement, which said lots and lands are hereby determined to be especially benefited by said improvement; that the cost of said improvement shall include the expenses of preliminary and other surveys and the printing and publishing of the necessary resolutions and ordinances required, the serving of notices together with the interest on bonds issued in anticipation of the collection of the deferred installments of assessments and all other necessary expenses.

Section 4. That the assessments so to be levied shall be paid in ten annual installments with interest upon deferred payments at not to exceed six per cent per annum, provided that the owner of any property assessed may at his option, pay such assessment in cash or any number of installments thereof, at any time within thirty days after the passage of the assessing ordinance.

Section 5. That bonds of the City of Marion, Ohio, shall be issued in anticipation of the collection of deferred installments of assessments and in an amount equal thereto.

Section 6. That the remainder of the entire cost of said improvement shall be paid by the issuance of bonds in the manner provided by law.

Section 7. That the Director of Public Service be and he hereby is authorized and directed to make and execute a contract for said improvement with the lowest and best bidder after advertising according to law.

Section 8. This ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after the earliest period allowed by Law.

Plans for Continuing Free Sunday Concerts Moving Forward as Series Closes

Splendid Program by Marion Canto Club Ends Initial Group; Lecture-Recital Club Considering Further Programs; Board Meeting Called

Plans for a second series of free Sunday afternoon concerts were moving forward today following the close yesterday of the initial group of three programs at the Marion Theater.

In all probability definite arrangements for continuing this form of popular Sunday afternoon entertainment will be made at a called meeting of the Marion Lecture-Recital Club tonight. At this special session, called by Mrs. Harold K. Mouser, head of the Lecture-Recital group, plans for financing the proposed additional numbers will be taken up.

Among the proposals to be considered by the club in planning additional programs is that of presenting the concerts in various churches of the city, thereby eliminating the cost of renting an auditorium. Other plans probably will be considered also, Mrs. Mouser said today.

Financial Question

Aside from the financial aspect, which has been cared for in the first three concerts by the Marion County Federation of Women's Clubs, there is nothing to block plans for further concerts, officials of the club point out.

That Marion persons enjoy good music and favor the free Sunday concert idea was demonstrated yesterday as on preceding Sundays when young and old filled the Marion Theater to capacity.

Yesterday's splendid program was presented by the Marion Canto Club under the direction of Ernst C. Carl, ably assisted by members of the Marion Lecture-Recital Club and Miss Marguerite Brickman, guest soloist from Columbus.

Each number was enthusiastically received. The program started at 4 o'clock and continued until 5 o'clock. It included organ and vocal music, with solos and chorus numbers.

Organ Numbers

The concert opened with two organ numbers, "Theme in E Flat," William Faulkes and "Benedictus", Jeffrey Poole, presented by Mrs. William Ackerman, a member of the Lecture-Recital Club.

A group of four vocal selections, including three scheduled ones and encore number, by John Lacey, tenor, soloist with the Marion Canto Club, comprised the second number. For his part in the program Mr. Lacey sang "Spirit Flower," Campbell-Tilton; "Dona", McGill and "Trees", Rafback. As his encore selection he sang "Until", Wilford Sanders. He was accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Lacey.

Flute Solo

The next number on the program was a flute solo, "Cavatina", Raff by Judge L. B. McNeal. He responded to an encore. Accompanying him on the piano was Mrs. Lorene Ferry.

One of the most pleasing numbers on the program was the group of songs presented by Miss Marguerite Brickman, Columbus, guest soloist. Her numbers were "Crying Waters", Hamblen; "Recompense", Grey, and "Wake Up", Phillips. For her encore she repeated her final number. Piano accompaniment for Miss Brickman's group of songs was furnished by Mrs. Harry T. Williams.

The program closed with a group of four numbers by the Marion Canto Club under the very able direction of Ernst C. Carl. Piano accompaniment for these songs was played by Mrs. Helen Zuck Lacey and Miss Mabel Baldauf.

The numbers in this group were "Song of Prince Rupert's Men," Thayer; "Sweet and Low", Barnby; "Land of Sky-Blue Water," Cadman, and "Bedouin Song," Foote.

The piano for the concert was furnished by the piano department of the Paddock Transfer & Storage Co.

Physical Education To Be Demonstrated By Students Tuesday-Wednesday Nights

Proceeds From Sale of Tickets Will Be Apportioned Among City Schools To Be Used in Purchasing Books For Library

For the purpose of raising funds to be used to purchase books for the libraries of the Marion Public Schools students of the schools are presenting a demonstration of physical education at 8 o'clock Tuesday and Wednesday nights at the Star Auditorium. The proceeds will be apportioned among the schools according to the number of tickets sold, the schools selling the most tickets receiving the most money.

Miss Rachel C. McAfee, gymnasium instructor in the senior, junior high schools, is directing the performance, with the assistance of Mrs. D. L. Buchanan, teacher in the Olney Avenue School, Miss Margaret Clapsaddle, teacher in the Pearl Street School, Miss Gladys Larson of St. James, Minn., substitute teacher in the city schools, Miss Isabel Uncapher, teacher in the Glenwood School, and Miss Lenore Zuck, teacher in the Oakland School. All teaching was done after regular school hours.

Parents Cooperate

The success of the plan rests largely on the splendid co-operation shown by the parents of the students taking part in providing the children with suitable costumes, and permitting them to remain at the school after regular school hours.

The program will open with a group of singing games, "pony," "Dodge ball," "King of Barabaroo," and "Captain Jinks" to be presented by students of the Glenwood, Davids and N. Main Street Schools. Pupils of the Oakland Heights School will give a demonstration of calisthenics and pupils of the Greenwood School a demonstration of Swedish gymnastics.

Wand Drill

The wand drill will consist of pupils of the Pearl Street School; the patriotic drill, students of the North State and Mark Street Schools, the [illegible] students of the Silver [illegible] Schools; and fancy [illegible] of the Olney Avenue [illegible] program will close with a group of folk games, "ox dance" and "sleigh bell dance" which will be given by pupils of the Central and Vernon Heights Junior High Schools and Pleasant Lawn School.

DOROTHEA MAE ESTLACK DIES IN CITY HOSPITAL

Pneumonia Assigned As Cause of Girl's Death; Funeral Tuesday

Miss Dorothea Mae Estlack, 18, died at 4:10 o'clock Sunday morning at City Hospital. Pneumonia was given as the cause of her death. She had been ill since Christmas.

Miss Estlack had attended Harding High School and Marion Business College and made her home with her sister, Mrs. J. L. Garver, 403 Uncapher-av. She was born in this city April 15, 1908. She was to have been married to Charles Buckingham, 299 Uncapher-av, in June.

Surviving are her father, George Estlack, and brother, Harry Estlack, N. Main-st, and her sister. Her mother, formerly Miss Minnie Berry, preceded her in death nine years ago.

Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at the M. H. Gunder Funeral Home. Dr. J. D. Darling, pastor of Wesley M. E. Church, will officiate and burial will be in Marion Cemetery. Friends may view the body at the funeral home any time before 2 p. m. Tuesday.

BOULDER DAM MEASURE IS DOOMED TO FAILURE

Senator Lenroot of Wisconsin Makes First Threat to Displace Bill

Washington, Feb. 21—The Boulder Dam bill, appeared doomed to failure in the senate today as it faced the first of a series of almost insurmountable obstacles on its road to enactment.

The first threat came in a move by Senator Lenroot, Republican, of Wisconsin, to displace it in favor of the $150,000,000 public buildings bill because but 10 legislative days remain before the adjournment of congress. If Senator Johnson, Republican, of California, can carry this hurdle, it still will face a filibuster from the Utah-Arizona delegations, aided by senators who oppose the government establishing water-power projects anywhere.

Johnson's lone hope for enactment of the bill lay in his appeal to the senate to consider the safety of 100,000 persons living in the Imperial and San Verde Valleys of California and on the Yuma project in Arizona, who are constantly threatened by floods in the Colorado River. The property value likewise threatened, Johnson said, totalled $200,000,000.

Marion Chapter of Rainbow Women To Show Film March 7, 8

An authentic war picture, "America Under Fire," will be presented March 7 and 8 at the Grand Theater, under the auspices of members of Marion Chapter, Rainbow Women of Ohio, Dyer J. Bird Post, it was announced today by Mrs. R. L. Martin, president of the organization.

Plans for the show were made at a meeting of members of the executive board Friday night. The film includes pictures of a number of Marion boys, General Henderson, Col. B. W. Hough, Colonel Haubrich and Hank Gowdy. A lecture and monologue will be given in connection with the film by Corp. R. H. Ingleston, photographer for the Forty-Second Division during the World War.

Further arrangements will be completed upon the arrival of Billy Murray, advance man for Corporal Ingleston, in the near future.

MAN SHOT AND CHARGED WITH AUTOMOBILE THEFT

Columbus, Feb. 21—Earl Wallace, 32, of Newark, Ohio, was held under guard at St. Francis Hospital here today, with a bullet through his shoulder, and a charge of automobile theft against him.

Wallace was shot by patrolman Nesser after a chase through the downtown district last night, after he is alleged to have stolen a car belonging to Harry Prall. Prall called police when he saw the man stop the car at a filling station. When Nesser sought to arrest Wallace, the latter fled, and the officer reported that the fleeing man took refuge between two parked cars and drew a revolver. Nesser, after firing several times in the air brought Wallace down with the shot through his shoulder.

Plans for Continuing Free Sunday Concerts Moving Forward as Series Closes

Splendid Program by Marion Canto Club Ends Initial Group; Lecture-Recital Club Considering Further Programs; Board Meeting Called

Plans for a second series of free Sunday afternoon concerts were moving forward today following the close yesterday of the initial group of three programs at the Marion Theater.

In all probability definite arrangements for continuing this form of popular Sunday afternoon entertainment will be made at a called meeting of the Marion Lecture-Recital Club tonight. At this special session, called by Mrs. Harold K. Mouser, head of the Lecture-Recital group, plans for financing the proposed additional numbers will be taken up.

Among the proposals to be considered by the club in planning additional programs is that of presenting the concerts in various churches of the city, thereby eliminating the cost of renting an auditorium. Other plans probably will be considered also, Mrs. Mouser said today.

Financial Question

Aside from the financial aspect, which has been cared for in the first three concerts by the Marion County Federation of Women's Clubs, there is nothing to block plans for further concerts, officials of the club point out.

That Marion persons enjoy good music and favor the free Sunday concert idea was demonstrated yesterday as on preceding Sundays when young and old filled the Marion Theater to capacity.

Yesterday's splendid program was presented by the Marion Canto Club under the direction of Ernst C. Carl, ably assisted by members of the Marion Lecture-Recital Club and Miss Marguerite Brickman, guest soloist from Columbus.

Each number was enthusiastically received. The program started at 4 o'clock and continued until 5 o'clock. It included organ and vocal music, with solos and chorus numbers.

Organ Numbers

The concert opened with two organ numbers, "Theme in E Flat," William Faulkes and "Benedictus", Jeffrey Poole, presented by Mrs. William Ackerman, a member of the Lecture-Recital Club.

A group of four vocal selections, including three scheduled ones and encore number, by John Lacey, tenor, soloist with the Marion Canto Club, comprised the second number. For his part in the program Mr. Lacey sang "Spirit Flower," Campbell-Tilton; "Dunn", McGill and "Trees", Rafback. As his encore selection he sang "Until", Wilford Sanders. He was accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Lacey.

Flute Solo

The next number on the program was a flute solo, "Cavatina", Raff by Judge L. B. McNeal. He responded to an encore. Accompanying him on the piano was Mrs. Lorene Ferry.

One of the most pleasing numbers on the program was the group of songs presented by Miss Marguerite Brickman, Columbus, guest soloist. Her numbers were "Crying Waters", Hamblen; "Recompense", Grey, and "Wake Up", Phillips. For her encore she repeated her final number. Piano accompaniment for Miss Brickman's group of songs was furnished by Mrs. Harry T. Williams.

The program closed with a group of four numbers by the Marion Canto Club under the very able direction of Ernst C. Carl. Piano accompaniment for these songs was played by Mrs. Helen Zuck Lacey and Miss Mabel Baldauf.

The numbers in this group were "Song of Prince Rupert's Men," Thayer; "Sweet and Low", Barnby; "Land of Sky-Blue Water," Cadman, and "Bedouin Song," Foote.

The piano for the concert was furnished by the piano department of the Paddock Transfer & Storage Co.

Physical Education To Be Demonstrated By Students Tuesday-Wednesday Nights

Proceeds From Sale of Tickets Will Be Apportioned Among City Schools To Be Used in Purchasing Books For Library

For the purpose of raising funds to be used to purchase books for the libraries of the Marion Public Schools students of the schools are presenting a demonstration of physical education at 8 o'clock Tuesday and Wednesday nights at the Star Auditorium. The proceeds will be apportioned among the schools according to the number of tickets sold, the schools selling the most tickets receiving the most money.

Miss Rachel C. McAfee, gymnasium instructor in the senior, junior high schools, is directing the performances, with the assistance of Mrs. D. L. Buchanan, teacher in the Olney Avenue School, Miss Margaret Clapsaddle, teacher in the Pearl Street School, Miss Gladys Larson of St. James, Minn., substitute teacher in the city schools, Miss Isabel Uncapher, teacher in the Glenwood School, and Miss Lenore Zuck, teacher in the Oakland School. All teaching was done after regular school hours.

Parents Cooperate

The success of the plan rests largely on the splendid cooperation shown by the parents of the students taking part, in providing the children with suitable costumes and permitting them to remain at the school after regular school hours.

The program will open with a group of singing games, "pony," "hidden ball," "King of Barabaree," and "Captain Jinks" to be presented by students of the Glenwood, Davids and N. Main Street Schools. Pupils of the Oakland Heights School will give a demonstration of calisthenics and pupils of the Greenwood School a demonstration of Swedish gymnastics.

Wand Drill

The wand drill will consist of pupils of the Pearl Street School; the patriotic drill, students of the North Street and Mark Street Schools, the [illegible] drill students of the Silver [illegible] Street Schools; and [illegible] by pupils of the Olney Avenue [illegible] of the Oney Avenue [illegible] program will close with a group of folk games, "ox dance" and "sleigh bell dance" which will be given by pupils of the Central and Vernon Heights Junior High Schools and Forest Lawn School.

DOROTHEA MAE ESTLACK DIES IN CITY HOSPITAL

Pneumonia Assigned As Cause of Girl's Death; Funeral Tuesday

Miss Dorothea Mae Estlack, 18, died at 4:10 o'clock Sunday morning at City Hospital. Pneumonia was given as the cause of her death. She had been ill since Christmas.

Miss Estlack had attended Harding High School and Marion Business College and made her home with her sister, Mrs. J. L. Garver, 403 Uncapher-av. She was born in this city April 15, 1908. She was to have been married to Charles Buckingham, 296 Uncapher-av, in June.

Surviving are her father, George Estlack, and brother, Harry Estlack, N. Main-st, and her sister. Her mother, formerly Miss Minnie Berry, preceded her in death nine years ago.

Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at the M. H. Gunder Funeral Home. Dr. J. D. Darling, pastor of Wesley M. E. Church, will officiate and burial will be in Marion Cemetery. Friends may view the body at the funeral home any time before 2 p. m. Tuesday.

BOULDER DAM MEASURE IS DOOMED TO FAILURE

Senator Lenroot of Wisconsin Makes First Threat to Displace Bill

Washington, Feb. 21—The Boulder Dam bill, appeared doomed to failure in the senate today as it faced the first of a series of almost insurmountable obstacles on its road to enactment.

The first threat came in a move by Senator Lenroot, Republican, of Wisconsin, to displace it in favor of the $150,000,000 public buildings bill because but 10 legislative days remain before the adjournment of congress. If Senator Johnson, Republican, of California, can carry this hurdle, it still will face a filibuster from the Utah-Arizona delegations, aided by senators who oppose the government establishing water-power projects anywhere.

Johnson's lone hope for enactment of the bill lay in his appeal to the senate to consider the safety of 300,000 persons living in the Imperial and San Verde Valleys of California and on the Yuma project in Arizona, who are constantly threatened by floods in the Colorado River. The property value likewise threatened, Johnson said, totalled $200,000,000.

WAR PICTURE WILL BE PRESENTED AT GRAND

An authentic war picture, "America Under Fire," will be presented March 7 and 8 at the Grand Theater, under the auspices of members of Marion Chapter, Rainbow Women of Ohio, Dyer J. Bird Post, it was announced today by Mrs. R. L. Martin, president of the organization.

Plans for the show were made at a meeting of members of the executive board Friday night. The film includes pictures of a number of Marion boys, General Henderson, Col. B. W. Hough, Colonel Haubrich and Hank Gowdy. A lecture and monologue will be given in connection with the film by Corp. R. H. Ingleston, photographer for the Forty-Second Division during the World War.

Further arrangements will be completed upon the arrival of Billy Murray, advance man for Corporal Ingleston, in the near future.

MAN SHOT AND CHARGED WITH AUTOMOBILE THEFT

Columbus, Feb. 21—Earl Wallace, 32, of Newark, Ohio, was held under guard at St. Francis Hospital here today, with a bullet through his shoulder, and a charge of automobile theft against him.

Wallace was shot by patrolman Nesser after a chase through the downtown district last night, after he is alleged to have stolen a car belonging to Harry Prall. Prall called police when he saw the man stop the car at a filling station. When Nesser sought to arrest Wallace, the latter fled, and the officer reported that the fleeing man took refuge between two parked cars and drew a revolver. Nesser after firing several times in the air brought Wallace down with the "shot" through his shoulder.

LOCAL PYTHIAN GROUP ATTENDS STATE MEETING

Marion Uniform Rank Delegation Takes Part in Columbus Session

About 45 members of Marion Company, No. 15, Uniform Rank, Knights of Pythias, leaders by Capt. James H. Ramey, 145 Superior street, chief officer of the organization in the state, attended an Ohio brigade assembly held in Columbus Saturday night and Sunday.

The meeting attended by representatives of 22 Uniform Rank companies from all parts of Ohio, as well as by national officers and other guests from other states, was one of the largest in the history of the Ohio brigade.

The program opened Saturday night with a military ball in the ball room of the Southern Hotel. About 20 members of the Marion company took part in this event and the remainder of the delegation of 45 went to Columbus Sunday morning on a special C., H. & M. car to be on hand for the closing program, Sunday afternoon.

Join Here

Delegations from Kenton, Willard and Bucyrus joined the local company members here and made the trip to Columbus on the special car, which left here at 9 o'clock yesterday morning, returning at 9 o'clock at night.

Marion Company, one of the largest in the Ohio brigade, figured prominently in the afternoon meeting, which took place in the Columbus Pythian Castle Hall, 24 N. Goodale st. The local organization had charge of both the opening and closing ceremonies.

Initiation of 81 candidates was one of the outstanding features of the afternoon session, which was attended by about 600 Uniform Rank members. Included were five candidates from Marion.

Among other features of the afternoon program were talks by Major General S. L. Trabue of Rushville, Ind., national head of the Uniform Rank, and Brig. Gen. Ramey of this city, William B. Gray of Covington, Ind., George E. Meyer of Wheeling, W. Va., and Morris Nordoff of Pittsburgh, Pa. Exhibition drills were given by Zanesville, Canton and Sandusky companies.

A new company of 51 members recently organized by General Ramey at Wynard was mustered in with special ritualistic ceremonies conducted by Major General Trabue.

To Be Annual Event

The Columbus meeting was such a pronounced success that it was voted to hold a similar gathering annually, preliminary plans being made yesterday to call the next assembly in Sandusky in August or September.

Prior to the ball at the Southern Hotel, Major General Trabue and Brigadier Generals Ramey and Gray, recently appointed to plan changes in the style of uniforms used by the organization, held a conference and decided upon recommendations that will be made to the supreme assembly in the near future.

Sunday morning a short business session was held by Ohio brigade officers with General Ramey presiding. Headquarters of the brigade during the two-day session were at the Southern Hotel.

Local officers in charge of the Marion company's participation in the event, in addition to General Ramey, were Col. H. H. O'Dowd, head of the Sixth regiment, Capt. Lee Swick of Col. O'Dowd's staff, Col. W. E. Fetter and Col. Edward Abel, both members of General Ramey's staff, and Capt. E. J. Schweinfurth, head of the Marion company.

Wives of several of the local officers attended the ball, Saturday night. General Ramey and wife being one of the two couples leading the grand march.

Mexican Trouble Easing; Pani's Selection Soothes

Calles' Representative Unusual Person To Be Aligned with Executive

BY CHARLES P. STEWART

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21 — Ex-Finance Minister Alberto J. Pani of Mexico, who comes to the United States, so it's reliably reported, to confer as President Calles' representative, with American companies which have oil interests south of the Rio Grande, is a queer individual for a president supposedly as stiff necked a radical as Calles to send on such a mission.

Alberto J. Pani

Not that Pani is "persona non grata" with American "big interests." On the contrary they like him very well indeed. That's just why it seems so odd that Calles chose him to talk business with them.

True, Pani was Calles' minister of finance for a space, but that was because he's a capable financier. Calles had to have a good one, so he put up with Pani, conservatism and all. And Pani, who has interests of his own in Mexico which he didn't want to see jeopardized by a crash, put up with Calles, too, to prevent a financial crisis, if he could.

PANI never pretended to be in sympathy with the present Mexico City administration. He would have been a good deal more at home in the old Diaz regime. Calles never took off his hat to anything about Pani except his financial acumen.

Even at that, Pani was so far out of harmony with his surroundings that finally he resigned and was appointed ambassador to France, as everybody assumed to get him out of the way.

And here he turns up on this side of the border with Calles' authority to see what he can do with the American oil men.

IN Mexico City, as minister of finance Pani simply was a super-clerk who thoroughly knew his job but was all the time under Calles' thumb. As a negotiator abroad, he certainly will have to have a fairly free hand, if he's to do any good.

To be sure, he hasn't dipmolatic authority. He can make no bargain with Secretary of State Kellogg. Still, it would be a waste of time to dispatch him to see even the oil men unless Calles pays some attention to what he reports. Nobody can doubt that he'll report some compromise in favor of the oil men and Calles has insisted hitherto that he wouldn't yield an inch.

Naturally there's a good deal of wondering in Washington if the Mexican president isn't thinking now of giving a little ground.

THERE are respects in which Pani's a good man for his mission.

The American oil men and their bankers recognize in him a kindred spirit, with whom they won't be uppish and domineering, as they've inclined to be with Calles.

He can talk turkey with them and tell them just what, in his opinion, they can't get short of fighting for it. And they'll believe him, for they know Pani doesn't want war. At the first sign of an armed clash between the United States and Mexico, his investments in Mexico would go smash.

So h ecertainly will be an influence for peace.

MANY say that Pani was Gen. Obregon's choice, not Calles' Obregon was president before Calles. He virtually made Calles his successor. Most folk think Calles will make Obregon his successor in turn, the Mexican constitution having been fixed so he can.

Obregon says no, he doesn't want to be president again, but few are convinced. At any rate, he has a strong pull in Mexico City, and Pani saw him before he left for New York.

$5,000 From Insull

Crowe testified he had received $5,... from Samuel Insull, the utility ... to be used in the candidacy of ... P. Savage, a candidate for ... judge. This was the contribu... which Crowe refused to reveal at ... Chicago inquiry.

Crowe said the money was given ... Daniel F. Schuyler, an Insull ...

Crowe was the first witness. Senator ... Democrat, of Missouri, the com... chairman, told him he was be... given "another opportunity to ... the questions which you re... to answer in Chicago."

"I now ask you, Mr. Crowe," Reed ... after reading the Chicago collo... "were the moneys you received ... Mr. Insull to be employed for any ... in the primary election held ... Illinois April 13, 1926?"

For Judge Savage

"I said before I received $15,000 or $16,000 for the campaign of Judge Savage," Crowe replied.

"I got that money from Daniel F. Schuyler, George F. Harding, Charles V. Barrett and some other personal friends of mine. I got $5,000 from Samuel Insull. That was the money Schuyler gave me."

"How did you get it?" Reed inquired.

"I asked Schuyler to help with a contribution to Savage's campaign and he came back later with the $5,000," said Crowe.

The Chicago state's attorney was humble on the witness stand. This was in sharp contrast to the defiant attitude he assumed in Chicago. He answered all questions at first in a very low tone and when the committee members ordered him to speak louder, he promptly obeyed.

"What other moneys did Insull contribute in this primary campaign?"

"Mr. Insull gave $10,000 to Roy O. West, $15,000 to George E. Brennan, $10,000 to Charles V. Barret and $5,000 to me through Mr. Schuyler," said Crowe. "That's all he gave me."

Crowe also told of the Republican organization in the 20th ward of Chicago—his own ward—spending $7,000 in the senatorial primary. This sum was spent solely for county candidates, he explained.

seaside resorts. In these latter places many houses were smashed or undermined and carried away by the high waters.

Much property damage was done by the storm ashore. A roof was blown off a three-story apartment house in Dorchester. Scores of plate glass windows were blown out in stores. The town of Winthrop on the seashore was flooded in the low-lying sections and wires, short-circuited by ice and wind, put the entire community in darkness during the night. The government pier at Nahant was undermined as were several cottages. Nahant, too, was without electric current.

Many vessels and barges were reported in distress. Three ships were reported to have been wrecked south of Asbury Park, N. J., last night. The crew from one ship was rescued by the coast guard. The crews of the other two, the number of persons not known, were in dire peril but beyond the reach of rescuers until the heavy seas would subside.

The barge, Talbert, of New York, with men, women and children on board, was reported in distress 18 miles off New York. A coast guard patrol boat was sent to her rescue.

The shore line was strewn with wreckage of craft, large and small. Coastguard patrol boat, CG-281, was high and dry at Vineyardhaven but the crew did not suffer the same fate as as CG-238, having waded safely ashore.

The five-master schooner, Nancy, of Philadelphia, was beside the surfside railroad station at Nantasket Beach. Her crew of nine men and "Paddy," the ship's cat, were rescued by a volunteer crew in a dory.

The dredger, Lydia, was ashore and breaking up in Provincetown Harbor.

Two motor-driven fishing craft were on the rocks at Plymouth.

The steamship Lake Gorin was in peril but holding off Cape Cod as a result of warnings received from the naval compass station.

A coal barge was ashore off the Dolliver's Neck coastguard station, Gloucester.

The world's largest steamship, the Leviathan did not venture out at the heighth of the gale.

General John J. Pershing was held back by the high winds and snow drifts. Enroute from Boston to Exeter Academy, Exeter, N. H., to visit his son, the overseas commander of the A. E. F., with General Mark L. Hersey, was forced to "surrender" and proceed back to Boston in their automobile.

PENNSYLVANIA HARD HIT BY STORM

Pittsburgh, Feb. 21—Held in the grip of the most severe snowtorm of a decade, Pennsylvania today took stock of the damage wrought by the snow, sleet and ice which have wrought havoc throughout the state for the past forty-eight hours.

The storm claimed five victims in Pittsburgh and one in Philadelphia.

Ranging in depth from four inches in the eastern part of the state to 24 inches in the western part, the snow was augmented today by the continuous, steady fall, which the weather bureau said would continue throughout the day.

Untold damage to property, especially that of telephone, telegraph and other public utilities, was done by the storm. The telephone company said 15,000 poles were down in eastern Pennsylvania alone. Many more were down in western Pennsylvania.

West Virginia also suffered heavily. Telephone communication with most parts of that state was cut off entirely due of wires napping under the strain of now and ice.

LEGISLATORS WILL GET MESSAGE FROM DONAHEY

Governor Desires to See Use of Slot Machines Prohibited

Columbus, Feb. 21—Legislation designed to provide for the earliest possible relief for congested conditions at the Ohio Penitentiary, Mansfield Reformatory, London State Prison Farm and at various state hospitals will be recommended by Gov. Vic Donahey in a message which he expects to send to the Ohio Legislature when the solons reconvene here tonight.

Columbus, Feb. 21—An avalanche of bills are scheduled to be thrown into the senate and house hoppers here tonight when the Ohio legislators return from their week-end recess.

Gov. Vic Donahey, it was stated, expects to send a message to the solons during today's sessions which convene in both houses at 7 p. m. The nature of the governor's message has not been disclosed except the statement that it will deal with recommendations for legislation relating to public utilities and to the governor's desire that use of slot machines for gambling be prohibited.

The anticipated deluge of bills is due to the rule adopted by both the senate and house that, after today, no bills can be introduced except on affirmative vote of not less than three-fifths of the entire membership of the legislative branch in which the bill is proposed to be introduced.

showed no sign of abating today. Scores of Chinese have been decapitated by the Chinese police who prowl the streets armed with executioners' swords, beheading their victims as they arrest them.

Students, laborers, idlers and professional agitators have fallen beneath the executioners' knives.

The tram-cars and omnibuses resumed operation today, and the department stores reopened, but the strike is spreading. Virtually all the factories located in Chinese territory have closed. The repressive acts of the military authorities, instead of halting the strike, has aggravated conditions.

The wharf coolies quit today, holding up the loading and unloading of cargo. As a consequence, the Canadian Pacific liner, Empress of Asia, halted at Woosung at the mouth of the Yangtze, 16 miles down the river, prior to proceeding on to Hongkong.

The drizzling rain which began Saturday still is falling.

Order Restored

The second battalion of the Suffolk regiment, and a Japanese gunboat and submarine arrived at the Whangpoo docks today.

The Nationalists were reported to be restoring order in Hangchow, rounding up the defeated Sun Chuan-Fang stragglers, shooting many for looting and incorporating others into the nationalist armies.

Altogether 800 houses and shops were looted in Hangchow. The shops on reopening are flying the Nationalist flag.

Thousands of laborers here held demonstrations Sunday welcoming the Nationalists to the city.

Intelligence officers operating here declare that General Sun Chuan-Fang is prepared to flee if he is defeated at his present stand. He is reported to have booked passage to Japan.

NORTHERN GOVERNMENT PLANS TO AID SUN

Pekin, Feb. 21—The Northern government plans for a general offensive in defense of Shanghai, it was announced today by General Yang Yu Ting, chief of staff for Marshal Chang Tso Lin.

General Chang Tsung Chang has left Foe Nanking fully empowered to defend Shanghai at all costs against the Cantonese.

General Sun Chuan Fang has finally requested Fengtien aid in his campaign and has called for the cutting of the Shanghai-Nanking Railroad thus isolating Shanghai.

Fengtien troops plan to attack Hankow the moment the Cantonese strike at Shanghai.

General Chang Tsung Chang will direct a general advance of Fengtien troops across the Yellow River in Honan and expects that this movement will be completed within five days.

There is considerable criticism here on the delay occasioned by General Wu Pei Fu in declining to let Fengtien troops pass through Honan. It is now planned to move the troops despite Wu Pei Fu.

AGREEMENT SIGNED BY BRITAIN, CHINA

London, Feb. 21—Sir Austen Chamberlain, foreign minister announced in the house of commons this afternoon that an agreement has been signed between Owen O'Malley, British charge in China, and Eugene Chen, nationalist foreign minister, relative to the future administration of Hankow, a British concession.

Sir Austen disclosed that the agreement turns administration of the concession area over to the Chinese municipality of Hankow.

"After a tax-payers meeting on March 15, the British municipality will be dissolved and administration of the concession area will be handed over to the Chinese municipality," Sir Austen said.

NATIONALISTS ARE EXCITED BY SUCCESS

Hankow, Feb. 21—The Nationalist government is tremendously excited over its success in reaching an agreement with the British for the joint control of the Hankow and Kiukiang concessions and also over the military successes it has won in Chekiang provinces.

The agreement with the British, it is understood, gives practically equal control to the Chinese and British for the future administration of the British concessions. It is believed here that it will be made the basis of administration of the international settlement in Shanghai, if the Cantonese succeed in capturing that city.

MARION MAN DIES WHEN READY TO QUIT HOSPITAL

Harry Harris Powell Succumbs in Wheel Chair in Columbus Institution

In condition to leave Grant Hospital, Columbus, where 10 days ago he had undergone an operation for appendicitis, Harry Harris Powell, 54, 211 Carhart-st, died yesterday as he sat in a chair in the hospital. Death was due to a clot on the brain.

Mr. Powell was born in Williams County July 9, 1873 and was the son of Mollie Furgeson and Henry Powell, both now dead.

He is survived by an aunt, Mrs. Don Milburn and uncle, Leu Reams, both of Columbus, and his grandfather, Rev. E. P. Powell.

Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon at his home, 211 Carhart-st, in charge of Mrs. Sara Stoner, universalist pastor, of Prospect. Burial will be in Richwood Cemetery.

FOR COMMISSION POST

Walter D. McKinney, Columbus, Recommended to Governor Donahey

Columbus, Feb. 21—Governor Vic Donahey, it was stated today, has under consideration the recommendation that he appoint Walter D. McKinney, Columbus, as a Republican member of the state utilities commission for a six-year term.

McKinney is secretary of the Southern Ohio Coal Exchange, an organization of coal operators of the Hocking Valley and other Southern Ohio districts.

The governor is expected to ask the senate this week to confirm appointment of Frank Maullar, Republican, Chillicothe, a member of the state utilities commission. The senate last week rejected the governor's selection of C. C. Thorpe, Columbus, also a Republican.

Miami, Fla., Feb. 21—To all intents and purposes the joint wage conference of soft coal miners and operators broke down today.

After a week of negotiations failed to yield a material concession from either side, the sub-committee appointed to draft a new wage scale announced today that it was unable to break the deadlock and will report to this effect tomorrow to the full conference.

The conference is expected promptly to accept the verdict of its committee. The conferees probably will be heading home by tomorrow night.

GOVERNMENT WINS FIFTEEN BILLION DOLLAR RAIL SUIT

Washington, Feb. 21—The federal government today won the "fifteen billion dollar" railroad valuation case on jurisdictional grounds.

The supreme court, which did not decide the case on its merits, held that the question of railroad valuation was still a matter of investigation by the interstate commerce commission.

Justice Brandeis who read the opinion said the lower court should have dismissed the case of the Los Angeles and Salt Lake Railroad which appealed from the tentative valuation made by the interstate commerce commission.

GOVERNMENT WINS SUIT AGAINST POTTERY CONCERN

Washington, Feb. 21—The government won today in the supreme court an anti-trust suit against 23 pottery manufacturing concerns and 20 individuals, alleged to control 82 per cent of the business of the country.

Decision was rendered upon the government's appeal, after the circuit of appeals in New York had refused to declare that the Trenton Potteries Co., Thomas Maddock's Sons Co. and other defendants had entered into an illegal combination to unreasonably maintain prices.

SIX GAS STATIONS HELD UP OVER WEEK-END

Columbus, Feb. 21—Six gas filling station holdups occurred here over the week-end and early today, while doctors at White Cross Hospital were fighting to save the life of Jack Noon, a filling station attendant. Noon was shot by a negro bandit when he resisted an attempted holdup.

Two white bandits early today forced a filling station attendant to lie on the floor, after making him open the safe, and fled with $75. Total loot from the six holdups was about $300.

FORECLOSURES PLANNED TO AID TAX COLLECTION

Plans To Force Payment Are Outlined at Conference of Officials

Definite plans for starting foreclosure suits against city properties charged with thousands of dollars of delinquent special assessments on the local tax books were made Saturday afternoon at a conference attended by Prosecuting Attorney Frank Wiedemann, County Treasurer James E. Messenger, City Solicitor George T. Geran, Assistant Solicitor Carter M. Patton and Deputy County Treasurer R. J. Shelton.

The first of these suits will be started within a few days, Prosecutor Wiedemann announced today, and others will follow until action is under way to force collection of all of the overdue accounts.

The delinquencies, according to a statement recently made up by County Treasurer Messenger, total more than $40,000. Failure of property owners to settle these accounts has been largely responsible for a $40,000 deficit which now exists in the city's sinking fund, making it necessary to appropriate money from municipal operating funds in order to meet bonds and interest falling due.

Prior to Saturdays' conference, officials were undecided regarding the method of procedure to be taken in forcing the collection. Foreclosure action was decided upon, however, when it was found that this procedure is authorized in section 2607 of the Ohio General Code. This gives the County Treasurer authority to bring foreclosure suits, the same as is done in connection with mortgages, for any overdue taxes or assessments.

Scc Dozen Suits

Probably a dozen suits will be started within the next few days, Prosecutor Widemann says. The first petitions will include the larger delinquencies, some of which amount to several thousand dollars, and those to be filed later will be for the smaller items.

The delinquencies have accumulated in connection with 130 street improvement accounts, the oldest of which are from sewers, sidewalks and pavings constructed 15 years ago. The list includes assessment placed on the tax books every year since that time.

"We expect to use every means possible to collect the entire list of delinquencies," Prosecutor Weidemann stated today.

It is probable, officials say, that some of the accounts can not be collected because of inadequate property valuations. In these cases, adjustments will be made so that the items can be removed from the tax books.

Judgments obtained against properties in connection with about a dozen collection suits brought three years ago are to be enforced at once. Executions are to be levied for the purpose of placing these properties up for sale, it is stated.

BANDITS AND POLICEMAN WOUNDED IN GUN BATTLE

Trio Surprised While Loading Merchandise On Truck In West Philadelphia

Philadelphia, Feb. 21—Three alleged bandits and a policeman were wounded early today in a 30 minute gun battle after the trio was surprised loading thousands of dollars worth of merchandise on a truck in front of Bacharach's men's clothing store in West Philadelphia. Two of the alleged robbers may die, according to physicians at Misericordia Hospital where the trio are under heavy guard.

The men gave their names as: James Cummings, Philadelphia, shot in the head; Thomas O'Faira, Philadelphia, wounded in the chest; and Edward Blair of Baltimore. Blair also shot in the chest.

The policeman, George Myers, was shot through the left arm.

MRS. ETHEL ELLA RICE IS CLAIMED BY DEATH

Dies After 10-Weeks Illness; Body To Be Sent to Michigan

Mrs. Ethel Ella Rice, 32, wife of William Rice, died at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon at her home, 345 Windsor-st. Her death followed a 10-weeks illness of stomach trouble.

Mrs. Rice was born in Grafton Center, Mich., Jan. 16, 1895, the daughter of Ella and Howard Ingraham. Hermarriage to William Rice, night foreman at the Marion Steam Shovel Co., took place in Grand Rapids, Mich., Feb. 18, 1911. She was a member of Wesley M. E. Church. She moved to this city from Grand Rapids, Mich., four years ago.

She is survived by her husband, William Rice, 345 Windsor-st, one daughter, Miss Aileen Rice, 12, one sister, Mrs. George Eron, 251 Pennsylvania-av, and one brother in Greenville, Mich.

The body will be sent to Greenville, Mich., where funeral services will be held at the Greenville Methodist Church. Burial will be in Coral Cemetery there.

FOUR ARRESTED HERE ARE SENT TO COLUMBUS

Men in Party May Face Mann Act Violation Charges, Police Say

Two men and two women arrested here Friday afternoon following an automobile trip of more than a week which police say was financed by cashing bogus checks en route, were taken Saturday night to Columbus, where their case is being thoroughly investigated preliminary to filing of charges.

A federal officer was here Saturday questioning the two women. Chief of Police Thompson stated today, and it is indicated that in addition to prosecutions for alleged forgery, the men may be accused of violating the Mann White Slave act.

The motoring party was halted here Friday and the four taken into custody after one of the quartet, Orley Harley Miller, 40, of Urbana, is said to have attempted to cash a $80 forged check at the Butler Store, 193 W. Center-st.

Probe Disclosure

Today Chief of Police Thompson said that his investigation Saturday showed that the touring party, which left Indianapolis more than a week ago, had cashed forged checks at different places between there and Marion. Checks traced to the two men, Miller and Owen McKibben, 35, of McConnellsville, have also been found in Urbana, Marietta, Athens and McConnellsville, the chief says. The amount of the checks has not been determined.

Miller, so Chief Thompson states, admitted working the bogus check game, saying that McKibben wrote the checks and that he cashed them.

The women, Miss Martha Wilkinson, 19, of Indianapolis, and Miss Clara Miller, 24, of Sandyville, W. Va., sister of Orley Miller, denied having any part in the check game.

The four were taken to Columbus instead of being placed on trial here because a warrant was issued in Columbus for the arrest of Miller several weeks ago. Before starting out on the automobile trip which led to Indianapolis, Miller is said to have cashed a forged check after having had it indorsed by the grandfather of A. E. Clemens, manager of the local Butler Store.

Clemens, having been appraised of this transaction, was prepared for Miller when he came into the Butler Store here Friday and presented a $80 check. Clemens notified police and Miller was arrested, his three companions being taken into custody about an hour later.

Clemens and his grandfather are former Urbana residents and had known Miller about 15 years. It was this acquaintanceship which enabled Miller to obtain the grandfather's indorsement on the first check.

LINDSEY LOSES APPEAL IN COLORADO SUPREME COURT

Denver, Feb. 21—Ben B. Lindsey, Denver juvenile court judge, today lost his appeal for a rehearing of a decision by the Colorado supreme court ousting him from office as the result of a contempt election case filed by Royal H. Graham, now deceased.

Lindsey's request that he be permitted to take the case to the Supreme Court of the United States was also denied, and the ouster was ordered served immediately.

Daily Proverb—"When there are two women in one house there is one too many."

It is planned to ventilate the senate and house, but what they seem really to need is binding and muzzling.

There's no reason the Chinese shouldn't be able to fight. Look at the centuries of practice they have had on each other.

Even should the borer do the business for the corn, we suppose enough rye could be grown to meet the demand for medicinal purposes.

It can hardly be said that Senator Jim Reed's presidential boom isn't making some headway. Senator Tom Heflin is knocking it.

Since a sport writer has explained that Aimee Semple McPherson's ankles could never be called pleasing, who will blame her for going to the desert to take her exercise.

Give these everlasting seekers after publicity rope enough and sooner or later they will hang themselves, which recalls the sad case of Judge Ben Lindsey.

It's mighty easy to credit the prediction that the next World war will be fought in the air. The most of the world has been up in the air for some time now.

It is manifest that the principals in the congressional mills, thus far, have been sadly out of training, but time, no doubt, will rectify this.

The Cincinnati Enquirer remarks that "it's getting so that a really popular president is one that photographs well," without giving the slightest intimation why it is knocking Mr. Coolidge.

At one time we imagined the primary was as bad as it could be, but that was before the proposal to let members of one party select the candidates of the other.

It would be something of a joke on congress should the McNary-Haugen bill, which it passed to put the president in bad, bring about his renomination and reelection. Stranger things have happened.

A writer says Los Angeles' Titian-haired evangelist utilizes sex appeal in her work. We wondered if straight religion would ever attract the crowds she draws to her temple out there.

Time for a Change.

Even all of us may agree with Governor Albert C. Ritchie, of Maryland, in some of his tenets, but most of us should concede the merit of his contention, expressed in a recent interview, that "you can not injure business without injuring the nation. And anything that hampers the free enterprise of men or destroys their initiative, or interferes arbitrarily with their pursuits, does injure business and is destructive of social and economic progress."

There should be no question of the worth of this proposition. We see upon every hand illustrations of the fact that too much government in business does these very things. The chief responsibility of government in connection with business should be to keep the door of opportunity open to all upon equal terms and to see that there is no abuse of industrial or business power.

And the more one studies the entrance of government into business in the past and watches the attempts of the champions of government ownership or governmental control to force more and more government into business, the more willingly should be admission that Governor Ritchie is equally correct when he holds:

"Government should keep its hands off business so long as business keeps its hands off government and engages in no practices which are unfair or stifling to others. That is the very heart of honest business prosperity and progress. So far as business recognizes its political and economic obligations it is entitled to its own measures of self-government and not to bureaucratic control superimposed upon it."

Can it be denied that business enjoys this right today? It has been stated repeatedly, and we have never seen it contradicted, that, in addition to the regular department with its many inspectors and accountants, there are at least two score other federal departments and bureaus that to mention the congressional investigations, which have become so numerous and of such a nature as to make them matters for national reproach, which are continually injecting themselves into the counting-room and the business office, rarely, we regret to say, in a helpful way and very seldom in a helpful way.

Yet bill after bill is offered and attempt after attempt made to inject still more government into business, not only the federal government but the governments of the several states as well, of which we have some decidedly pernicious examples before us in the present session of our own state assembly.

Isn't it time that business and the people be given a square deal and be freed from the meddlesome job-holders and taxeaters generally?

"For We Are the Same—"

Some decidedly important archaeological discoveries have been made by the scientists in charge of the joint expedition of the University of Pennsylvania and the British museum which is digging in the mounds which mark what was once the world metropolis of Ur, the famous city of the Chaldeans and home of Abraham, near the mouth of the Euphrates in ancient Babylonia and now known as the ruins of Mugheir. The discoveries are important because they throw new light upon some of the architectural ideas and some of the arts and artifices in used today, showing them to be many centuries older than heretofore assumed.

Major C. Leonard Woolley, representing the University of Pennsylvania, reports the finding of a great audience chamber erected by King Sin-Idinnam something like a mile from the main temple of the Moon god and other great structures heretofore discovered which had an arched and vaulted roof, a construction which has been deemed unknown at so early a date, for the chamber was erected shortly before 2000 B. C. The expedition also discovered a cemetery dating back to 3000 B. C.—practically 5,000 years old—which shows arched brick roofs to tombs. Many of the doorways in private homes in Ur also have been found to be arched. Thus a popular style of architecture today was known and utilized 5,000 years ago.

Speaking of the rare finds discovered in the ancient cemetery mentioned, Major Woolley says:

"Inside the southeast end of the latter Temenos"—meaning sacred enclosure—"we have come upon a cemetery dating to a very early period, just before or just after 3,000 B. C., which yielded, besides much information about the primitive customs of the people, a wealth of fine objects of all sorts and of all materials. The most surprising feature is the abundance of precious metal. Diadems, rings, earrings and beads of gold and silver are the rule rather than the exception. Long pins have heads of lapis lazuli mounted in silver or gold and weapons and tools, of which, indeed, we have a satiety.

"Individual objects are remarkable. There is a chain of gold set with lapis lazuli, which might have been made yesterday instead of 5,000 years ago. There is a little gold bull beneath whose chin is tied a great false beard, the symbol of godhead, making of the domestic animal the 'great Bull of Heaven;' a bead shaped as a pear on which is perched a bird not a quarter of an inch high, yet with all its feathers faithfully rendered; a tall head ornament of silver in the shape of a lotus flower, the petals ending in balls of lapis lazuli capped with gold; a diadem of thin gold on which are rows of figures, their outlines impressed in the soft metal, huntsmen and stags, bulls and rams, a magnificent example of the work of the primitive goldsmith.

"Also there are mere curiosities, such as a gold bead three and a half inches long, set between two equally large beads of lapis, which might have been a burden to their wearer. Curious, too, is a large shell, which, by the addition of a stone head, is transformed into a duck, the bright color of the breast reproduced by an incrustation in lapis and mother-o-pearl, while a similar incrustation adorns a half of an ostrich-shell used as a cup.

"We have dug 180 graves and there should be twice as many more yet to dig. It will be disappointing if the result of January's work do not equal those of December, unexpectedly rich as December has proved."

But perhaps the discovery which will be of most interest to our women readers was the finding of a complete toilet set in ivory, lotus-shaped mirror-handle, powder box, paint-pot in the form of a sphinx and, the best piece of all, a fine-toothed comb bearing on either side a picture of a bull, exquisitively engraved. As the scientists put it, "it was a set of which any lady might have been proud."

The discoveries made may not establish the old, old claim that there is nothing new in the world, but they do establish that much that we have is far older than we ever imagined it to be. But while this old saw may not have been made good by the American and British scientists at work in the ruins of Ur, we believe that the finding of the toilet set shows that the facial decorating women are doing today demonstrates the references which are so frequently made to the "eternally feminine."

If we are to accept the utterance of the late head of the soviet supreme council of political economy, the failure of communism in practice even exceeds its success in theory.

It's a cinch that the speaker, who told the Merchant Tailors' Association of America that man lacked clothes consciousness, never saw some of our friends dressed up for a party.

"You never can tell," remarked the fellow who lives next door on the way down town this morning. "I once knew a fellow who passed an intelligence test splendidly and then went right off and got married."

The Florida hurricane had something on the California, but it didn't have any snow storm as a curtain-raiser or close with a couple of earthquakes.

The real drawback about the congressional fights is that no provision has been made to prevent spectators from breaking into the ring and interfering with the contestants before either gets a chance for a knock-out.

"It's well enough to maintain your rights while motoring," observed the restaurant philosopher at luncheon today, "provided your car is heavier than the other fellow's and you have good bumpers."

Poems That Live.

WHEN YOU ARE OLD.

When you are old and gray and full of sleep,
And nodding by the fire, take down this book,
And slowly read, and dream of the soft look
Your eyes had once, and of their shadows deep;

How many loved your moments of glad grace,
And loved your beauty with love false or true;
But one man loved the pilgrim soul in you,
And loved the sorrows of your changing face.

And bending down beside the glowing bars
Murmur, a little sadly, how love fled
And paced upon the mountains overhead
And hid his face amid a crowd of stars.

Spring Has Its Own Diseases.

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

In the springtime come diseases which are rather uncommon in other seasons. Nobody knows just why. That is one of the problems left for the doctors of the future to solve.

Erysipelas is one such disease. It is materially more prevalent the first three or four months of the year than it is all the rest of the time. Fortunately, it is no longer common at any season.

Not many years ago, poorly ventilated and not overly clean hospitals were plagued by erysipelas. It would get a start and almost every operative case would become infected.

But with greater knowledge and habitual cleanliness, the hospitals are remarkably free from the germ of this disagreeable disease. Well nourished and right living persons rarely have it any more.

Erysipelas produces an inflammation of the skin. All the classical symptoms of inflammation are present—redness, swelling, heat and pain. The fever may run very high and, in consequence, there may be delirium or great depression.

Fortunately, bad as it is, erysipelas is rarely fatal. This makes the disease easier to bear. The unsightly appearance of the patient won't be so disturbing when you know death is not imminent.

There is first a red spot, perhaps on the cheek or over the bridge of the nose. The redness extends and the involved area raises up as the swelling increases. There is a definite ridge of swelling and redness, sharply defined from the pale skin adjoining.

The involved tissue is very red, tense and smooth. It feels hot to the touch: After a few days small blisters may appear on the surface of the swollen skin.

As the trouble progresses the eyes may be swollen shut. The whole head may appear to be enlarged and distorted.

The disease produces more or less poisoning of the system. In consequence the lips and mouth are dry, the heart's action is feeble and the patient is very weak and prostrated.

The symptoms last for a week or so. In spite of all treatment the disease runs a pretty definite course. Unless abscesses or serious complications arise the redness and swelling disappear, and in a short time all traces of the attack disappear.

Erysipelas is due to a specific germ. This fact has caused the laboratories to work on a serum and a vaccine. No doubt the time will come when erysipelas will be fully controllable. Knowledge of the cause has done much to do away with the disease.

Locally, application of ichthyol salve is the favorite treatment. Sometimes it is possible to prevent the gradual creeping forward of the disease by painting the skin in front of the swollen ridge with iodine.

For centuries cold water applications have been recommended. It is good treatment. Also it helps a lot to give the patient lots of water to drink.

The diet should be restricted. Plenty of fresh air is indicated.

The nurse or attendant should remember the infectious nature of erysipelas and not handle other persons. It is better to isolate the patient for the same reason.—Copyright, 1927.

The Way of the World.

BY GROVE PATTERSON.

A note from inmates of a hospital for the insane was received by the Nebraska state legislature. The note suggested there were candidates for state lawmakers in the insane asylum. Judging by the number and quality of laws that have been produced in the last few years by many state legislatures, this letter is the mad suggestion of a lunatic. At least lunatics sometimes have lucid intervals.

College sophomores and some others, unable to solve the mystery of life, kill themselves in despair. Somebody asks Edison: "Are we solving the mystery of the origin of life?" Edison, old and very wise, answers that it will be centuries before we have gathered enough information to make even a reasonable guess. In the meantime, all that the rest of us have to do is live as long as we can and learn as much as we can.

It is reported that Edison does not believe in God. That is not true. What Edison says is that the word "God" has no meaning for him, but that he believes a supreme intelligence pervades the universe. When the average man tries to tell what God is like he sets up a being in his own imagination which is not big enough for the work of creating and operating a universe. Edison doesn't try to do that, for he knows that man's little mind is not big enough to conceive the bigness of the Creator. So he says: "A supreme intelligence pervades the universe." He lets it go at that.

California has been having some "unusual" weather. The word "unusual" is one of the sharp arrows in the Californian's quiver. Press dispatch says:

"Drenched with three days of steady rain accompanied by high winds, the entire state of California was still gripped tonight by the angry elements. In some sections as much as seven inches of rain had fallen.

"The wind approached the intensity of a hurricane at Taft, in Kern county, ripping roofs from several buildins and uprooting trees.

"Lashed by winds and waves, two cottages at Santa Monica crumbled, and beach dwellers deserted others, fearing the high surf would undermine their homes."

If you are well informed you will respect your own country more and more. Able doctors are not likely to be over-enthusiastic about anything. They are conservative. Dr. Louis B. Wilson, director of the Mayo Foundation of Medical Education and Research in Rochester, Minnesota, says Americans no longer need to travel to European centers of learning to complete their medical education. American schools and hospitals are the equal of those in the Old world.

America is beginning to have scholarship as well as ingenuity.

Twenty Years Ago.

This day was Thursday.

The Great Western railway steamship, Berlin, enroute from Harwich, England, to Rotterdam, hit a sandbar outside Rotterdam harbor and was wrecked with the loss of 160 lives, great waves breaking the vessel into pieces.

The Star reported the marriage, the day before, of Miss May B. Penn and Mr. Jesse R. Sharto by Rev. L. C. Reed.

B. F. Waples, William Mahaffey, S. E. Morral, J. H. Bardon, C. W. Jacoby, J. L. Wolfe, S. B. Creasap, J. B. Martin and T. W. Pangborn were elected directors of the Morral Banking company, the Star said, the day before.

Dr. J. W. Mahood and Dr. J. W. Potter arrived from Warren, Pennsylvania and opened a big revival at Epworth church in which the German M. E. church and Wesley church joined.

Edson L. Bush was visiting Pittsburgh relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. George B. Christian and daughter, Mildred, left for Florida.

Mrs. Lydia Vanatta, aged seventy-five, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. D. H. Lincoln, of east Center street.

George B. Christian bought the Kasson corner, later occupied by the Columbia theater and now by the Midway restaurant.

The Star told of a tri-county meeting of Pythian lodges at Cardington, the day before, Marion, Morrow and Union counties being represented.

The $25,000 LaRue school building was gutted by fire.

Charles Vogel, Jacob Marx and Samuel Rosenberg attended a dance in Lima.

The temperature was one degree below zero.

Andrew Heath had his right ankle broken when a heavy casting fell upon it at the Marion Steam Shovel plant.

William Morganthaler was elected captain and W. J. Gordon, first lieutenant, of Marion Company, No. 15, Uniform Rank, Knights of Pythias.

The Tally Wag club gave a big seven-up party in the club parlors.

The coming marriage of Miss Stella Diebold and Mr. Earl Smith was announced at a luncheon given by the bride.

The new Prendergast company was organized with James F. Prendergast, president, and treasurer; O. S. Rapp, vice president, and W. S. Probst, secretary.

Mrs. Anna Van Demark Camnitz, formerly of Marion, was married to Mr. George Roch, of Brooklyn.

Hunter Hastings was seriously hurt when hit by a tree north of LaRue, felled by his son, Ayres Hastings, and their guest, S. R. DeLong, of Marion.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas O'Connell, of Quarry street.

The Star reported the birth of a daughter, the day before, to Mr. and Mrs. Edward Thurston, of east Center street, and twin daughters to Mr. and Mrs. Emanuel Hecker, of Espyville.

Mrs. Catharine Hite, of Prospect, celebrated her ninety-first birthday anniversary.

A marriage license was issued to Elmer Rufus Tracht and Louisa Pearl Ness.

Some Questions of Interest Asked and Answered.

Q. Which cities of the United States are what is known as independent—not belonging in counties? L. T. K.

A. There are twenty two independent cities. They are Baltimore, St. Louis, and Alexandria, Bristol, Buena Vista, Charlottesville, Clifton Forge, Danville, Fredericksburg, Harrisonburg, Lynchburg, Newport News, Norfolk, Petersburg, Portsmouth, Radford, Richmond, Roanoke, Staunton, Suffolk, Winchester and Hopewell, Virginia.

Q. Will oil freeze in a tank outdoors, for use as fuel? J. M. S.

A. The bureau of standards says that all oils will solidify or become so viscous that sufficient flow can not be maintained, if exposed to low enough temperatures. All oils sold as furnace oils would probably be satisfactory as low as zero Fahrenheit, and oil may be obtained for this purpose which is satisfactory to forty below zero, provided the pipes leading from the storage tank to the burner are not too small.

Q. What is meant by or what is "goulash" and "mayonnaise" at auction bridge? F. F.

A. Mayonnaise, also known as hollandaise, s the name for a variation of the standard game of auction. When players agree to play it, if a deal is passed out—four passes and no bid—the four hands, sorted but unshuffled, are stacked together and redealt five, five, and three at a time, and the deal is then bid and played. To play goulash, the players agree that there shall be a mayonnaise or hollandaise whenever the bidding of a deal fails to reach a game-going contract, which means when less than five clubs or diamonds, four hearts, or spades, or three no trumps has been bid. When playing goulash it is customary to offer a bonus of a thousand points or more for bidding and making a slam. Milton C. Work, the auction expert, says these variations will never become a part of bridge, because real bridge would cease to exist if their use became prevalent.

Q. Are women more particular in having their shoes properly fitted than men? W. A. B.

A. A thousand people were examined at the Wisconsin state fair in 1925. A survey of the fit of shoes was made with the use of an X-ray machine with the following results: men had good fits in forty per cent. of the tests, fair fits in forty-six, poor fits in fourteen; women, 14.07 per cent. good fits, 55.02 per cent. fair fits, 30.91 per cent. poor fits; boys, forty-five per cent. good fits, 27.05 per cent. fair fits, 27.05 per cent. poor fits; girls, 32.09 per cent. good fits, 40.59 per cent. fair, 26.40 per cent. poor fits.

Q. Does the Smithsonian institution have an observatory in California? N. D.

A. The astrophysical observatory of the Smithsonian institution has an observing station on a plot of ground leased from the Carnegie solar observatory on Mount Wilson, California.

New York Day by Day.

New York has colonies of nearly all nat[ions] —save the Mexican. They do not migrate [here] from border towns. A few years ago a small Mexican colony sprung up along upper Fifth avenue. They were mostly laborers. They tarried briefly. The Mexican among aliens will insist he is Spanish and they drifted to that section.

In a straggly Brooklyn street there are two Eskimo families. They came to town with various explorers and did not return [home] again. One of them, fittingly enough, is a driver of an ice wagon. There are many Japanese in New York, but they do not segregate.

While some are valets, waiters and chauffeurs, the great majority are well off financially and are connected with importing houses or specialty stores. They seek the best neighborhoods and live in an opulent manner above the average.

It is noticed that on Sundays or holidays many well-dressed Japanese roam about snapping kodak pictures. This often gives rise to spy gossip. A Japanese tells me it is common custom among natives of his land, wherever they go, and means nothing. Perhaps so. But Japan frowns on the same thing.

Some 200 New York girls have married Japanese during the past ten years. Almost invariably the Nipponese select the fragile type of blonde. As a rule such a marriage severs Occidental ties and lives live in isolation. There is a red-haired telephone girl who married a Japanese and after his death in the Yokohoma earthquake married a Chinese restaurateur.

Eddie Cantor is the latest star to desert New York for Hollywood. The stage will not see him for many years. He has bought a fourteen-room home on the west coast and moved his family there. Cantor came out of the gas tenements of Grand street to make Broadway laugh, but has not forgotten those left behind. Each year he gladly pays the check for a two weeks' outing for the boys and girls of his own neighborhood, denied the youthful pleasures for which Cantor, too, once longed.

Dinner Stories.

"Acquitted," said the judge.

The old negro had been accused of stealing a watch looked doubtful.

"Acquitted? What yo' mean, judge?"

"I mean," answered the judge, "you are acquitted."

The negro looked more confused than ever. "Judge," he asked, "does dat mean I have to gib de watch back?"

"Mother," said little Bobby, "what does father go downtown for every day?"

"Why, he goes downtown to work and get money so that Bobby can have a good dinner every day," his mother relied.

A few days later, says Harper's magazine, when Bobby sat down to dinner he viewed his table with a critical eye. Seeing none of his favorite dishes, he disdainfully shrugged his small shoulders and grunted:

"Huh! Father didn't do so much today, did he?"

Pat went to the drug store for an empty bottle. Selecting one that answered his purpose, he asked: "How much?"

"Well," said the clerk, "if you want the empty bottle it'll be five cents, but if you have something put into it we won't charge you anything for the bottle."

"Sure, that's fair enough," said Pat. "Put in a cork."

Today's Worst Story.

BY WILL ROGERS

Automobile owners are always suspected of wanting to run over people. Whoever is walking on the street just naturally suspects every guy with a car of having designs on his life. It don't matter a bit how many cars a pedestrian may have at home in his garage. If he's on foot right now, then he considers the goofs at the steering wheels as being a lot worse than Dick Whittemore and Jesse James.

So it was a pedestrian that told me about a motorist that was out driving one Sunday afternoon. This guy's wife was in the front seat, giving the usual helpful hints on driving. The motorist was making about fifty-six miles an hour on a good highway, when he accidently run over somebody. He managed to keep right in the middle of the road, though and had no trouble getting on. The wife piped up:

"John, do you know you run over somebody back there a ways?"

"Yes," he says, "I reckon I did. Felt like it, didn't it?"

"Well, hadn't you better turn around and go back and find out about it?"

"Why, no, I guess not. It's awful hard to turn around and make any kind of time, and anyway there's no call to be so darn curious. Tomorrow's paper will likely tell all about it."—Copyright, 1927.

UNION COUNTY TOURNEY GAMES NEXT SATURDAY

Eight Girls' and Six Boys' Teams Successful in First Round

Marysville, Feb. 21 — Eight girls' teams and six boys' teams were eliminated in the first day's matches of the annual Union County tournament held Saturday in the local armory. The teams successful in defending their right to compete for honors will meet again next Saturday for the final games which will determine the basketball champions in Union County for 1927.

The morning session was taken up by six girls' games, all of which proved rather uninteresting with the exception of the Milford-Raymond game.

New California Wins

New California girls had very little trouble in defeating the New Dover girls' squad. The Dover squad showed very little life and were trailing by a 25 to 2 score at the end of the game.

The Magnetic Springs-Byhalia game was the second contest of the morning, which resulted in favor of the latter team by a 19 to 9 score.

Another contest which proved very uninteresting was the Watkins-Allen Center contest which resulted in favor of Watkins by a tally of 22 to 3.

After three listless games the fans were given a real treat by the Raymond and Milford Center girls who played three overtime periods to unravel a tie score. It was not until the last overtime period that either team scored additional points, Raymond making a basket and Milford a free throw, thus giving the game to Raymond, 10-9.

The Darby-Pharisburg fray which was next on the program furnished a few thrills during its duration and ended 7 to 5 in favor of Darby.

Richwood defeated Irwin in the last contest of the morning by a 16 to 2 score. All of the Richwood team played a stellar game and seemed to be a good bet for the winners of the girls' cup in the tournament.

Boys' Play

The boys' teams took possession of the floor during the afternoon session. The rivalry which was evident last year was absent to a certain degree in both the boys' and girls' games Saturday.

The first game of the boys' division was played between the Byhalia and Darby teams. The contest resulted in a score of 18 to 13 in favor of the Byhalia crew.

The strong Irwin five next trounced the Raymond team by a 19 to 3 tally. Broadway went down before Milford Center by a 25 to 8 score.

New Dover, present champions of Union County made their first appearance on the floor against Pharisburg and had little trouble defeating them by an 18 to 7 score.

New Cally, conceded by many local fans a strong contender for the trophy won over Allen Center by a 42 to 4 score. This closed the afternoon division of the games.

Night Games

The girls' games and a boys' game were scheduled for the evening session. The game between the Raymond and the Broadway girls resulted in a victory for the latter. Score was 19 to 2. The other girls' game was played between Darby, winner over the Pharisburg girls in the morning session and Richwood, victors over the Irwin girls. The contest resulted in a victory for Richwood, 18 to 2.

Magnetic Springs, another good bet in the boys' array, defeated Richwood in the last game of the day by a 45 to 5 score.

KLINEFELTER FUNERAL

Beech, Feb. 21—Funeral services for Joseph Klinefelter, who died at his home here Saturday morning will be held at the Salem Church Tuesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. Rev. Paul Petticord will officiate. Burial will be made at the Beech Cemetery.

Says He Didn't Know Liquor He Sold Was Intoxicating

UPPER SANDUSKY, Feb. 21—When Ed Clouse, Tiffin, asked to have Frank Gier, of east of Tymochtee in Wyandot County arrested he did not know that it would land him in the same predicament.

Gier was arrested on the charge of stopping payment on a legitimate check but—the check was payment for three gallons of of liquor and Clouse was arrested on charges of selling, furnishing and delivering intoxicating liquor. He was arraigned before Common Pleas Judge Earl B. Carter, Saturday morning and pleaded not guilty, admitting that he sold the liquor but claiming that he did not know it was intoxicating. He was placed under bond of $1,000 which he furnished and will have his trial next Wednesday afternoon at 1 o'clock.

Gier made the $36 check good stating that he stopped payment when the persons drinking the liquor became sick and he decided it was "bad" hootch.

CANTATA "HOLY CITY" FEATURE OF SERVICES

Elaborate Musical Program Presented at Kenton Methodist Church

Kenton, Feb. 21—One of the most elaborate programs of music ever presented in Kenton was the cantata, "The Holy City," given Sunday evening by the choir of the First Methodist Episcopal Church under the direction of Prof. Owen Roberts, music instructor in the public schools here.

In addition to the chorus numbers, both solo and quartet selections were presented. A ladies' chorus also sung.

The piano and organ introduction and offertory were played by Miss Marguerite Strahm at the organ, and Miss Kathryn Sams at the piano. The solo numbers were given by Warren Rodabaugh, Mrs. W. H. Lintz, Mary Jane Wagner, Owen Roberts, Mrs. Boyd Fair, H. J. Sells and C. F. Southard.

During the morning hour of worship at the First M. E. Church, the members of the three Boy Scout troops of the city attended in a body, the service having been arranged as a fitting culmination to the annual observance of National Boy Scout Week marking the anniversary of the founding of the group.

The pastor, Rev. C. J. Yeisley, spoke on the subject, "The Boy, His Place in Modern Life."

At Epworth Methodist Episcopal Church plans were completed by the congregation for their week of special services opening tonight and leading up to the rededication and reopening of the church on Sunday, Feb. 27. During the past three months the church auditorium and vestibule has been undergoing extensive repairs and remodeling at a cost of approximately $6,000.

Rev. W. B. Whitehead, Marion, spoke at both the morning and evening services in the Wesleyan M. E. Church Sunday.

Much interest is now centering in the services Sunday evening in the Church of Christ when Rev. H. Erwin Stafford speaks on the subject, "Is Marriage a Failure?"

NAMES OF SUCCESSFUL STUDENTS ANNOUNCED

Eight Are Selected for Places on Upper Sandusky Debating Teams

Upper Sandusky, Feb. 21—Names of the following students were announced today as being the successful applicants in the try outs for the high school debate team: Thomas Tschantz, Frederick Cassel, Donald McNamara, Marion Good, Beatrix Goodman, Helen Hill, Evelyn Jonas, Alma Roth. Two of this number will be chosen as alternates by the debate coaches, Prof. George Rilling and Prof. L. H. Houpt.

Promise of exceptional debating ability was shown in the try outs for the team and Upper Sandusky High School expects to make a fine showing in their two debate battles of this year, it was stated by Professor Houpt. The debate coaches are confronted with new material this year, only two of the old team being in school at this time, but they expect to whip the new team into shape in a short time.

The first debate is scheduled to be held with Fostoria High School on March 18. The date for the other with Crestline has not been set as yet.

This will be the first time in a number of years that the local high school has participated in dual debates. One triangular debate during the year has been the previous program.

ANNUAL CONFERENCE TO BE HELD AT SYCAMORE

Elaborate Plans Being Made for Entertainment of Young People

Upper Sandusky, Feb. 21—Over two hundred are expected at the Fourteenth Annual Young People's conference to be held at Sycamore, March 12.

Enthusiastic plans are being made by the young people of that village for the entertainment of the delegates and the success of the conference, according to Paul Konkle, chairman of the committee on arrangements.

The Young People's conference is annually conducted by the Young People's Division of the County Council of Religious Education. Eight delegates are selected from each Sunday School of the county, four boys and four girls, to be in attendance at the conference.

The aim of the conference which has been so successfully conducted in Wyandot county for the past fourteen years is the welding of strong, potential young people into leaders and earnest workers in the problems of the furthering of Christianity and the building of a stronger religious feeling. Delegates must range between the ages of fifteen to twenty-four inclusive.

Officers of the conference this year are: Clarence Jamison, McCutcheonville, president; Anna Jane Miller, Nevada, vice president; Dorothy Castenien, Upper Sandusky, secretary; Paul Konkle, Sycamore, treasurer; A. G. McQuate, adult leader.

UNION EVANGELISTIC SERVICES ARE OPENED

Three Churches in Mt. Gilead Holding Joint Campaign For Three Weeks

Mt. Gilead, Feb. 21—Mt. Gilead's three weeks' evangelistic services to be held under the auspices of the three local churches, the Methodist, Presbyterian and Baptist, opened last night in the Baptist Church. Rev. J. C. Smith, pastor of the Methodist Church, preached the sermon.

S. F. Porter, singing evangelist, who has been obtained to have charge of the singing at the series of meetings, sang a solo and led the congregational singing. Mr. Jackson played the pipe organ and Mrs. D. E. Miller played the piano.

The church was filled to capacity at last night's meeting with members of the three congregations.

Reverend Smith stated that the name of the minister to preach the following night would not be announced in advance, and that the ministers would not follow any regular sequence in preaching.

FRANCHISE ENDS IN 1935, RAILWAY PRESIDENT SAYS

Predicts That Matter of Street Repair Will Be Settled Peaceably

Bucyrus, Feb. 21—Contending the opinion set forth by city officials that the franchise of the Cleveland South western Railway Light Co. to operate cars over city streets here had expired in a move to have the company repair paving along its tracks, President and General Manager F. H. Wilson of the company has declared that the franchise does not expire until 1935.

In a letter to a correspondent of The Star, Mr. Wilson predicts that the present matter of street repair may be adjusted satisfactorily to both the interurban company and city officials. His statement follows:

"I understand the city officials took the matter up with our general superintendent, J. A. Nester, regarding some track repairs in Bucyrus and I have no doubt arrangements will be made satisfactory to both the city and ourselves."

PATRIOTIC PROGRAM IS GIVEN BY GALION CLUB

Galion, Feb. 21—An appropriate patriotic program featured the regular meeting of the Fortnightly Club this afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. V. Goshorn, Harding Way West. Members responded to roll call with quotations from famous American patriots. Two papers were read, "The True George Washington," Mrs. J. J. Allwardt and "The Real Abraham Lincoln", by Mrs. R. E. Porter. A short program of patriotic songs followed and the meeting closed with a dainty luncheon.

EDISON FARMER GIVEN TEMPORARY INJUNCTION

Cleveland Man Restrained from Disposing of Stock Intrusted to Him

Galion, Feb. 21—William Lepp, Edison farmer, has been granted a temporary injunction against J. B. Dager of Cleveland, to prevent the latter from disposing of stock which Lepp intrusted to his care last fall. According to Lepp, a stock salesman giving his name as Dager, called upon him early in October and offered to sell some shares of Galion Iron Works stock for him at par. Lepp gave the salesman sixty shares of preferred stock for disposal and although a time limit of sixty days had been placed upon the sale Dager has not been heard from since.

Inquiry in Cleveland was fruitless and although a man of that name had offices there has not been heard of for some time. Five shares of Lepps stock have already been returned to the company office here for transfer and it is likely that the remaining fifty-five shares have been disposed of or transferred.

The Better Business Club of Cleveland has begun an investigation of Dager's business dealings.

RUSSIA IS SUBJECT

Toledo Y. W. C. A. Secretary To Speak at Mecker Wednesday

Mecker, Feb. 21—Montgomery Rural Schools have secured Miss Carrie Louise Gates, general secretary of the Y. W. C. A., Toledo, to speak on the subject, "Russia," this Wednesday evening. Miss Gates spent several weeks last summer in Europe and two in Russia. The fact that she has seen or received first hand information on the subject of her address lends added interest. The address will cover the government, schools, industries, religion, social conditions and especially the position of women in the Soviet Republic. The program will begin about 8:30 by a musical introduction by the Montgomery Rural School Orchestra.

TWO COLLEGE TEAMS TO HOLD DEBATE IN GALION

Baldwin-Wallace and Capitol To Compete on Wednesday Night

Galion, Feb. 21—A chance to hear a real college debate will be given enthusiasts of oratory when the Baldwin Wallace and Capitol University teams compete here Wednesday night. Both colleges wished to stage the debate on neutral ground and Galion was selected because of its location, interest in debating and excellent auditorium. The members of the debating teams of Galion high will receive the college representatives and act as hosts to the team members during their stay here.

Among the speakers from Baldwin Wallace will be Paul Trautman of Galion, a graduate of the local school who will have the final speech for his team.

In addition to the debate a short musical program is being arranged with members by the high school string quartet and instrumental solos by the schools organization. The staff members of the "Lantern" local school paper, are selling tickets for the event. The subject for debate has not been announced and will be withheld until the final day.

BLAST WRECKS CHURCH WHILE PASTOR TALKS

Solemnity of Funeral Services Turned into Near Panic; Score Hurt

Kenton, Feb. 21—More than a score of persons, including many from Kenton and vicinity, are recovering today from minor injuries and shock sustained Saturday afternoon when the explosion of a steam heating plant in the basement of the Presbyterian Church at Ada, west of here, jeopardized the lives of 400 persons, changed the solemnity of funeral services into a near panic and virtually wrecked the interior of the large brick building.

When the blast occurred the floor of the church was pushed upward and splintered in many places and the shock threw many from their pews.

A stampede of the terror stricken congregation was narrowly averted through the efforts of the pastor, Rev. C. R. Thomas, his wife and ushers. One man was trampled when he fell in the mad rush to the door. Women screamed as the blast rocked the structure and others fainted. No one, however, was seriously injured.

Heavy Damage

Windows in the church were shattered, the floor wrecked in places and the iron fixtures and brick masonry around the furnace were crushed and twisted into a heap of debris.

The Rev. Thomas was conducting funeral services for Alex High, Ada lumber dealer and business man, and had just started his funeral sermon when the blast occurred. The body was removed from the building and taken to the cemetery as soon as the crowd became quieted.

Isaac B. McElroy, Hardin County probate judge, and wife, of Kenton, were among the mourners. They were hurled into a corner of the structure by the blast and Mrs. McElroy sustained injuries about the limbs. Many friends of the deceased, residing west of Kenton, were also at the services. Among these were W. C. and M. C. Mathews, J. M. Hively, president of the Hardin County farm bureau, and members of the W. H. Kahler family.

PREACHES HERE

Toledo Pastor Has Charge of Episcopal Services

Rev. Dominick Cassetta, rector of Grace Church, Toledo, was in charge of Sunday services at St. Paul's Episcopal Church yesterday.

At the service at 10:30 a. m. Reverend Cassetta preached a stirring sermon from the text. "For what shall it profit a man if he gain the whole world and lose his own soul?" taken from St. Mark. "The soul represents the higher life of man, the life that centers in God and is of greater importance than the whole world," Reverend Cassetta said.

"We cannot divest ourselves of our soul, given to us by God when He gave us life and created us in His own image. To lose the soul is to lose the capacity for caring for God and things that are of Him," Reverend Cassetta continued, "we cannot have both love of God and more, if we love the world, we cannot love God, for the world is at enmity with things of God."

"God created all things for us and our use but for our use in the right way. To build up that worldly structure known as 'success' about us is to stifle the soul. To lose the soul is to lose the things of God, we must take up our cross and follow Christ," he concluded.

Miss Grace Cooper, church organist, played as a solo number "Fanfare Eccelesia," by Theodore DuBois, an unusually fine example of modern French organ literature.

EUCHRE PARTY

Twenty-Five Tables Filled at K. C. Affair

Twenty-five tables were filled for cards at the Knights of Columbus party Friday night in K. of C. Hall. High honors at euchre went to Mrs. Fred Scherff and Tim Weisz while Willie McAndrews was consoled. Mrs. M. J. Kelly and W. R. Martin received high honors at bridge and John Davidson was consoled. Music was furnished by a group known as Hawaiian entertainers. Luncheon was served.

Chicago, Feb. 21—Florence Trumbull, daughter of the governor of Connecticut and said to be the fiancee of John Coolidge, son of the president, will be an interesting figure at a wedding in Chicago this June, it was learned today.

Miss Trumbull will be a bridesmaid when Miss Annamae Louise Houston, Chicago society bud, weds Andrew Sandegren II, agricultural engineer and member of a prominent Tacoma, Wash., family.

Miss Trumbull and Miss Houston were classmates at Bradford Academy, Boston.

FILLS PULPIT

Dr. J. B. Warren, McWilliams-ct, occupied the pulpit at the morning service yesterday at Wesley M. E. Church, in the absence of the pastor, Dr. J. D. Darling. He spoke on the subject, "The Power of the Great Principle." The service was well attended.

ADDRESSES CLUB

Attorney Hector S. Young Talks Before Community Group

Attorney Hector S. Young was the speaker at the meeting of members of the State Street Community Club Friday night at the school building. He spoke on the juvenile crime wave in the city and cited laxity in home government as one of the causes. He urged co-operation of parents with the teachers and said that children taught to obey laws of home and school would obey the laws of the state.

During the business meeting plans were made for an old-time circus Friday night of this week. Pupils of the fifth and sixth grades, of which Miss Naomi Rinehart and Miss Mary Lee Concklin are teachers entertained with a program. The song "America", was followed by a flag drill by girls of the Fifth Grade and the drill of the "Wooden Soldiers," by boys of the fifth and sixth grades. Betty Fetter, Ruth Persinger, Jeanette Alexander, Dorothy Delauder, Josephine Bahr and Pauline Bauer, entertained with a minuet dance and pupils of the sixth grade entertained with a Colonial costume dance.

Pupils of the Fifth Grade were awarded the banner for having the largest number of parents in attendance at the meeting. Following the program a social hour was enjoyed and lunch served.

Constipation Bars You from social success

Abundant health is vital if you are to lead in social activities. And you cannot be healthy unless your bowels are healthy, too.

Don't dread constipation. For permanent relief is to be had quickly and easily. A new and delightful corrective performs the three essential functions of relieving, cleansing and rebuilding. Without these there can be no cure.

Normal bowel movements are restored with overnight promptness. Natural methods are used, not harshly irritating ones. Then colon walls are cleansed. All the foul "crust" is melted away. Absolute freedom from irritation and strain gives abused muscles a chance to rebuild, to regain their strength.

This new-day corrective, Jam-O-Lax, performs these three vital functions definitely and surely. Nature is given a chance. Normal conditions are soon restored.

In Jam-O-Lax the corrective elements are blended with the finest of fruits and oils. It comes to you as a tasty jam—equally good by the spoonful or as a spread on crackers.

Delightful to take, positive in action, this triple function corrective is the answer of science to your demand for a corrective that will combat constipation.

Learn what this perfected corrective means to you and yours. Avail yourself of this chance at your druggist.

Jam-O-Lax

The Triple-Function Corrective

A THREE DAYS COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist.—Adv.

Quicksands of Love

BY ADELE GARRISON

Disturbing Conjectures

WITH infinite pity mingled with alarm, I raised Mary Harrison's crumpled figure in my arms and tried to still the rapidly increasing hysteria which her fright at Mrs. Baker's attempted attack upon me had brought on. But she only sobbed the more wildly, and rapidly passed into the next phase—that of convulsive laughter.

It was at this point that Lillian touched my hand.

"Put her down on the bed, Madge," she commanded, "and leave her alone. You're only making her worse."

Reluctantly, I obeyed her, although I knew that she was right. But I had to steel myself rigidly to unloosen Mary's convulsive clinging arms from my neck and go away from the bed at Lillian's imperious motion. She moved swiftly into the place I had vacated, and stooping over Mary, took her by the shoulder and shook her vigorously.

"Mary, stop this at once," she said. "You'll have all the people in the house up here."

But the girl evidently was beyond even so peremptory a command, and Lillian turning to me, gave me a signal which I obeyed, although with reluctance, for I realized what she meant to do and shrank from it, even though I realized that it was our only recourse. But the hand with which I handed Lillian the glass of water for which she had signaled me shook as violently as Mary's own.

My friend shot at me a glance of pitying amusement which roused my anger and steadied my nerves as she doubtless meant it to do. Then with a quick sure movement she dashed the full contents of the glass into the sobbing girl's face; then, handing the glass to me, grasped Mary by her shoulders and raised her first to a sitting, then to a standing posture.

"Sorry to wet your dress, Mary," she said, with as careless an air as if throwing water into girls' faces was an everyday routine with her. "But I don't think water will stain it. Madge, hand me a towel and then help me get these wet clothes off."

Mary was gasping, spluttering, almost choking, but she was no longer sobbing and laughing, and by working swiftly we had disrobed her, rubbed her dry and put her into pajamas and a bathrobe, and she had quieted down completely.

"I'm so—" she began, but Lillian turned on her imperatively.

"Don't talk—yet," she said. "Here," drawing her to the chaise lounge. "Lie down here until your aunt and I get your bed ready for you. Ah, Katherine!"—as the little nurse quietly entered the room, drawn, I had no doubt, by the noise of Mary's hysteria—"you're just in time. I've just administered the water cure. Will you get whatever you want her to have before she goes to sleep?"

"I'll be right back," Katherine promised, with instant and competent comprehension of the situation, and before Lillian and I had finished the preparation of Mary's bed, she came noiselessly into the room with a sedative and a glass of hot milk.

"Katie will save some luncheon for you when you wake up," she told Mary, matter-of-factly, "and as you haven't eaten, you'll have a chance for a good sleep. Take this now, and then drink your milk."

The young girl obeyed her, and went into her bed with equal docility. But she looked up at me pleadingly from her pillows, and with sudden resolution I gestured the others from the room as soon as their ministrations were finished. When the door closed after them, she put up her arms and pulled me down close to her.

"Oh, Auntie Madge," she whispered. "I'm making you so much trouble. But won't you please remember that no matter what I do, I love you, love you? Promise me you'll remember."

I gave the promise and, kissing her soothingly, tucked the blankets around her and left her to the sleep she needed. But I could not help wondering whether by "trouble" she meant her recent hysteria, or something else which was as yet unknown to me.—Copyright, 1927, by Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.

CHAPTER FORTY-FIVE

For a while I surrendered to the luxury of being able to resist from further effort. I rested there in a kind of stupor with just enough sense to realize that I was cold and desperately hungry. My aperture had suddenly returned, which was not surprising, seeing that I had not eaten since the previous evening.

I do not know how long I remained in that position, but it must have been for some considerable time. I believe I was first startled into wakefulness by the abrupt ceasing of the storm and the silence which followed. I only know that when next I came to attention the noise of the rain on the roof had ceased and all was quiet. Then, suddenly, as I made a movement with the object of improving my position, I heard the sound of a door opening below me. Instantly I paused and remained motionless.

Some one was walking in the room beneath me.

Someone was walking in the room beneath me. I heard footsteps and then the click of an electric switch. A moment later I was aware of a faint light coming upwards through little chinks and holes in the ceiling, and soon I was able to inspect my surroundings.

I found I was in some sort of attic between the ceiling and roof of the chalet. It struck me at once as curious that the chalet should have a ceiling at all, for from outside it had appeared, so far as I remembered, to be merely a building or byre for the housing of cows and sheep in the winter, and I should thus have expected it to be no more than a wooden shell with a stone floor.

I listened again. Footsteps crossed the room and for some considerable time the person below, whoever it might be, moved about as though engaged in setting the apartment in order. Chairs were moved, and I heard the rustle of papers and the opening and closing of cupboard doors. I was surprised beyond measure by such activities in a lonely mountain chalet.

After a while there was a silence, and I wondered whether to make my presence known to my invisible host and try to beg or to compel his assistance. I was still considering the question when I again heard footsteps, this time outside the chalet. The person below heard them, too, for a chair was pushed back in the room below and someone rose remained quiet, like myself, as though listening to the noise outside. Then I heard a knock, and an unknown voice in the room said quickly, "Who's there?"

"Mandragora," came the answer, clear and distinct.

"Lethe," came a reply from within the room.

"On behalf of the Center," returned the voice from without, startlingly clear in the now silent night.

The door opened and admitted someone.

I was now tingling with excitement and, bending down, concentrated all my efforts on endeavoring to catch what was said in the room below. No further word was spoken, however, but again I heard the rustling of papers.

Presently more footsteps approached from outside. Again there was a knock, again the passwords were exchanged and another newcomer joined the two beneath me. This procedure was repeated fourteen times altogether, in the course of th next half hour, each newcomer being required to repeat the same formula before being allowed to enter. There was an increasing murmur of conversation as the room filled up and the voices were low and I could catch very little of what was said. It referred, as far as I could hear, only to two topics, the rigorous of the weather and the motives which could have led the Center—his name was mentioned frequently throughout—to have summoned "us" (whoever "us" might be) at such an inconvenient place and time. The buzz of conversation however, came to a abrupt end as three loud knocks sounded on the door. A moment later, amidst profound silence, I heard a voice I knew only too well.

"Be seated, gentlemen. I am sorry to have kept you waiting."

Immediately beneath me was the Center himself.

There was a short silence. Then I heard once more the rustle of papers and the Center's voice began again.

"I now call roll. Number 1."

A deep voice replied, "Present."

"Number 2."

"Present".

This procedure was repeated thirteen times, the unknown individuals beneath me answering to their numbers by the single word "present". They pronounced it in every conceivable variety of accent, which led me to the conclusion that the company below was of various nationalities.

"Number 14," continued the Center, when the last unknown individual had replied (he was, I judge, a Welshman by his accent) "is ill, and sends following telegram: 'Regret severe attack influenza has confined me to bed stop have instructed my secretary, Aaron P. Lowenstein, to act for me'. I have, therefore, pleasure in presenting you with new colleague. We will now pass to adoption of agenda."

There was another pause and then a voice with a slight cockney accent which I could not identify took up the tale. The man was evidently reading reports from a paper.

Agenda, North session. 1. Reports of defunct banks. 2. Increased price of Persian opium. 3. The Chinese situation. 4. Offer from Finchelstein. 5. Other business.

I realized now what was happening. I had been lying in the chalet some hours—it was now past midnight and the beginning of a new day. That day was the fifteenth, the day to which the Center had constantly referred, and this was the meeting of directors to which he had alluded in his recent revelations, in other words, the "inner circle" of which mention had been made at the meeting of the Opium Committee of the League of Nations which I had attended a short time ago.

I was in fact the auditor of proceedings at which the police of many nations would have given untold gold to assist.

I strained my ears to lose no word of what was spoken. I had forgotten my fatigue and my hunger and the personal peril in which I stood.

"Any observations?" asked the Center. "No one ask to speak." Then, as there was silence, he added, "Agenda adopted."

There was a tap as though a presidential gavel had struck the table.

For an hour or more after this I was listening to a series of concise verbal reports from all quarters of the world.

DR. W. B. CALDWELL AT THE AGE OF 89

Mother! It's Cruel to "Physic" Your Child

Dr. W. B. Caldwell, of Monticello, Ill., a practicing physician for 47 years, it seemed cruel that so many constipated infants and children had to be kept constantly "stirred up" and half sick by taking cathartic pills, tablets, salts, calomel and nasty oils.

While he knew that constipation was the cause of nearly all children's little ills, he did not believe that a sickening "purge" or "physic" was necessary.

In Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin he discovered a laxative which helps to establish natural bowel "regularity" even if the child is chronically constipated. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin not only becomes a gentle, easy bowel movement but, best of all, it never gripes, sickens or upsets the most delicate system. Besides, it is absolutely harmless, and so pleasant that even a cross, feverish, bilious, sick child gladly takes it.

Buy a large 60-cent bottle at any store that sells medicine or write "Syrup Pepsin," Monticello, Illinois, for a FREE SAMPLE BOTTLE and just see for yourself.

IS THERE NO RELIEF FROM SKIN TORTURE?

Must I Continue to Suffer the Unbearable Itching?

Are you one of those unfortunates who are going through life suffering with a skin disease, making you uncomfortable, making you less efficient, interfering with your working hours, ruining your sleep? You may have tried many things without relief. Why not try S. S. S.? For more than 100 years it has been giving relief in many forms of skin disease. Thousands of letters of gratitude prove its worth.

"I feel so happy for what S. S. S. has done for me that I want others to know about it. I suffered twenty long years from eczema. At times the itching was unbearable. During that time, I used all kinds of salves without receiving any real benefit. After taking six bottles of S. S. S. I was cured of this dreadful disease. I recommend S. S. S. to anyone suffering from eczema, because I cannot praise it enough for what it has done for me." Cleophas Forte, Soldiers and Sailors Home, Quincy, Ill.

S. S. S. is purely vegetable. It is extracted from the fresh roots of medicinal plants and herbs and gives to Nature what she needs in building you up so that your system throws off the cause.

S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.—Adv.

Mirror Tells!

"A good mirror is a woman's best friend," says lovely Miss Dolly Cain, 403 37th St., Union City, N. J., "because it tells the truth when other friends won't. I'm sure of its most flattering approval now I'm using the marvelously becoming Black and White Face Powder, which is tinted so like the natural flesh tones, and textured like the softest, purest skin. It blends with my complexion as the part of it, yet improves its appearance so much that friends comment on its soft, glowing velvetiness!"

Your own mirror will flatter you with a happy reflection once you adopt Black and White Face Powder as your own. This exquisitely delicate face powder, bolted many times thru finest silk, is the last word in dainty beauty aids, and is so tremendously popular you can get it from any of 80,000 dealers in city and country alike.

Best results come from using Black and White Skin Soap along with the Black and White Beauty Creations.

Indigestion Robs You of Vitality

Indigestion is more than just a discomfort. It is a symptom indicating that your body is not getting the true nourishment it needs from your daily food.

Indigestion means that your nerves are starving—that your blood is made poor—that your vitality is lowered—that your resistance to disease is impaired.

You need a mild, but efficient digestive stimulant to restore the assimilative powers of your digestive organs.

A remarkable stimulant-tonic has been devised for just such conditions as these. It is delightfully palatable and is prepared by an old Virginia concern in business for nearly a century. Druggists and physicians have come to know this stimulant as "Old Monticello Tonic." Get a bottle today from your druggist, take a small wineglass full before your next meal—see how much better you eat—feel the glow of stimulated functions throughout the body. A few days' treatment will bring a quick change in rundown conditions and overcome lack of energy.

Women Use

Then dispose of this new hygienic help easily as tissue—no laundry

BY ELLEN J. BUCKLAND Registered Nurse

WOMEN by the millions are discarding old-time "sanitary pads" for a new, scientific way.

A way that offers protection unknown before. A way, too, that solves the old embarrassment of disposal.

It is called "KOTEX." Eight in 10 better-class women now employ it.

✓ Discards like tissue. No laundry. No embarrassment.

It's five times as absorbent as ordinary cotton pads!

You dine, dance, motor for hours in sheerest frocks without a second's doubt or fear.

It deodorizes, too. And thus ends all danger of offending.

You ask for it at any drug or department store, without hesitancy, simply by saying "KOTEX."

Do as millions are doing. End old, insecure ways. Enjoy life every day. Be sure to get the genuine. Only Kotex itself is "like" Kotex.

Gossip and Guesses in the World of Sport

By Pat Murphy

AL HAFT, Columbus sporting promoter, has pulled some original stunts in his many years of connection with the sporting game, but his latest is one of the most unique in the history of any game, anywhere. The man who has made Columbus one of the best towns in the country for the ancient game of wrestling, and at the same time has made for himself a reputation as a square shooting promoter of sports, has announced that he will give five per cent of the receipts of his wrestling shows for the next year to charity. He attaches two strings to his offer—that the fund so created shall be administered without any compensation by a committee of five well-known public spirited men of Columbus; and the other that the money go to the relief of poverty-stricken children.

Haft is a big man—physically. He is also a big man, morally. One of the best evidences of the latter statement is the interest he has always taken in the youngster of his home city. At all his shows, where the seating capacity is limited, kids are admitted at a reduced price—usually a dime. Where there is lots of room, notably the open air arena Haft operates in summer, "kids" are admitted without charge. The writer once asked Al how this original idea ever occurred to him, and the answer was: "When you you were a kid, didn't you stand around outside of a ball park or a hall where some athletic event was being held, and wistfully wish you were a man with the enormous price of admission? Well, I have not forgotten when I was a kid, and so long as I can find room for the kids, they will not have to 'crawl under the canvas' to see one of my shows."

GEORGE LITTLE, director of athletics of the University of Wisconsin, expressed regret that officials of the University of Minnesota had declared the Badgers "canceled" a swimming meet date on February 19.

"We had only a tentative arrangement with Minnesota for that date," said Little. "We asked the Minnesota authorities to postpone the meeting until next year because our swimming budget was limited. This proposal was made as early as December 15, so that Minnesota might have as much time as possible to find another opponent."

A rather remarkable baseball record is that of Bob Prysock, who last year won the Michigan-Ontario League pennant for Bay City and who has been signed to pilot the Wheeling Stogies in the Middle Atlantic League the coming season. Prysock has played in major and minor leagues for 14 years and during this long period he has been absent from the line-up only once in some 2,000 games.

Horse racing has been a favorite pastime in America since Colonial days, and there are still in existence a score or more of famous stake races which were inaugurated around the civil war period. Among them are the Travers Stake at Saratoga, which has been held since 1864; the Saratoga Cup Races, held since 1865; the Belmont Stake, held since 1867, and a number of others, equally famous, which date from the beginning of the seventies.

ALBERT CHENEY WINS; WARREN MERKLE SECOND

Winner of Free Throw Meet Cages 32 Out of Possible 45 Shots

Albert Cheney, 13, Bain-av, Saturday afternoon was crowned champion of Junior foul shooters in Marion when he made 32 out of 45 attempts at the basket in the annual free throw tournament held at the Y. M. C. A. His closest competitor was Warren Merkle, Mt. Vernon-av, who caged 28 out of a possible 45 shots.

The seven leaders in the tourney who will form the Marion Junior foul shooting team in the comparison of scores for the National championship are Cheney and Merkle, Eddie Ruzzo, Charles Pulsfor, Don McAninch, Dean Ecenberger, and LeRoy Klingel. The team made 189 out of a possible 315 shots.

The free throw tourney, held annually, was in charge of M. O. Rudolph and Eddie Irwin of hte Y. M. C. A. Fifteen took part in the Junior division Saturday and a large number is expected in the Senior and Intermediate Wednesday night. Scores made by local youths are submitted to the free throw committee at Charleston, S. C., where they are compared with those of other youths in all parts of the country. The winner is declared national champion and is awarded a silver cup as a trophy.

Each boy Saturday was given a total of 45 shots. Those who took part and the number of baskets made out of the 45 attempts are as follows:

Albert Cheney, Bain-av, 32; Warren Merkle, Mt. Vernon-av, 28; Eddie Ruzzo, Pearl-st, 23; Charles Pulsfor, Cleveland-av, 23; Don McAninch, Pearl-st, 22; Dean Ecenberger, Woodrow-av, 21; LeRoy Klingle, Boulevard, 20; Clyde Forrey, Cleveland-av, 16.

Don Williamson, Bellefontaine-av, 16; Tom Johnson, Girard-av, 16; Jack Cookston, Elm-st, 15; Everett Williams, N. State-st, 13; Warren Smith, Wallace-ct, 12; Charles Augustine, McWilliams-ct, 11; Paul Webb, Mary-st, nine.

DAUGHERTY LEADS

Bill Hunt of Ohio State Second in Big Ten Scoring

Chicago, Feb. 21—Captain Russell Daugherty of Illinois today holds the lead for individual scoring honors in the Big Ten basketball race. Hunt of Ohio State is second and Gleichmann of Northwestern, third, the five players with the highest scores follow:

Daugherty, Illinois, 92.
Hunt, Ohio State, 91.
Gleichmann, Northwestern, 64.
Cummins, Purdue, 63.
Otterness, Minnesota, 61.

FORMER BOXER KILLED

San Francisco, Feb. 21—Eddie Hanlon, once a famous light weight fighter, today was held in the city prison on a charge of murder following the death of Walter Noonan, 28, proprietor of a market. Noonan bled to death after he had been stabbed in the thigh. The row between Hanlon and Noonan was said to have started in Hanlon's cafe after the men quarreled concerning ring battles of the past.

COMPLETING TRAINING

Chicago, Feb. 21—Dave Shade of California, was in Chicago today to complete training for his ten-round bout with Walcott Langford, Chicago colored middleweight, at the Coliseum Thursday night. Shade arrived in company with Leo P. Flynn, his manager, who claims Dave will be the next middleweight champion of the world if Mickey Walker will agree to meet him.

PROSPECT BOYS WIN; GIRLS LOSE TO LA RUE

Boys' Score Is 54 to 9; LaRue Girls Win 30 to 13

Prospect, Feb. 21—Prospect High School boys, and girls, basketball teams Friday night shared honors with LaRue on the LaRue court. The Prospect boys walloped their opponents, 54 to 9, and LaRue girls came through with a 30 to 13 victory over the visitors from the southern part of the county.

LaRue was held scoreless during the first half. The score at the end of that time stood 26 to 0 for Prospect. At the beginning of the third quarter, every Prospect substitute took a hand in running up the score.

Roberts scored 16 points for Prospect in the first half and Russel made 12 in the last half. Greenwood was LaRue's best player and made four of the nine points scored by his team.

Crowley and Shuster of LaRue made 26 of the 30 points credited their team in the girls' game. Faulkner played a good game for Prospect.

BIG TEN RACE STILL OPEN TO FIVE QUINTETS

Indiana Leads Parade by Virtue of Victory Over Michigan

Chicago, Feb. 21—The race for the Big Ten basketball championship was still wide open today despite the fact that Indiana is leading the parade with a half game margin over four bristling challengers, all tied for second place.

Indiana has won six games and lost two. Michigan, Wisconsin, Purdue and Iowa have each won five and lost two. This unique standing resulted from Saturday night's upheaval when each of the three teams, tied for first place—Michigan, Wisconsin, and Purdue—took the count before a worthy foe.

The Hoosiers took the lead—and incidentally a piece of sweet revenge—by upsetting Michigan in the latter's own bailwick, 37 to 34. It was Michigan that put the Hoosiers on the chutes several weeks ago by giving them their first drubbing of the season.

The early dopesters who picked Indiana to win the conference title are now back on the job oiling up their vocal cords for the chorus of "I told you sos." But with four fighting teams chafing at the post, only one half game behind, Indiana is anything but "in." The race is still wide open.

Two other surprises Saturday night were the defeat of Wisconsin and Purdue, two of the strongest teams in the conference. Ohio State took Wisconsin into camp, 20 to 16, at Columbus, and Iowa, defeated Purdue, 33 to 28, at Iowa City. In the fourth game Saturday, Chicago trimmed Northwestern, 40 to 21.

The heaviest card of the season faces the cagers this week. Eight games are scheduled. Indiana plays twice, against Ohio State on Tuesday and Wisconsin on Saturday. The Hoosiers have both games at home. They should experience little trouble in "taking" the Buckeyes, but Wisconsin is something else again, Wisconsin will be hard to beat—at home or abroad.

Business College Quintet Meets C., D. & M., Osgoods Battle Commercial Five

Hubers and Fairfield Engineers Are Scheduled for Tilt in Thirteenth Round Tonight; Entire Bill Promises Excitement Galore

The Marion Business College quintet will have another stab at the league-leading C., D. & M. cage team tonight in the thirteenth round of the Industrial Basketball League. The re-vamped Collegian outfit may surprise fans and turn the trick that other teams have been unable to pull during the season.

The C., D. & M. team is as yet undefeated and has 10 victories to its credit for the season. The Business College is in last place in the Industrial League standing and has only two wins to its credit. From all indications, the Electricians should have a walk-away tonight but fans who have seen the Collegians in action during the last few games hope to see a battle.

Commercials Vs. Osgood

Commercials will meet Osgoods in the second game and Fairfield Engineers will take on the Huber quintet in the third. Commercials should win the second contest and Fairfields are doped to come through with a victory in the final tilt.

But, in considering the possibilities for Osgoods against the Commercials, it must be remembered that the Osgood five is the only crew yet to defeat the Commercials this season with the exception of the great C., D. & M. aggregation. The Osgoods won the last game with Commercials, 19 to 18, in the final minutes. They may repeat tonight.

At the rate the Fairfield Engineers have been rolling during the last few weeks, the snappy Huber quintet should not bother them a great deal. However, Hubers always put up a great fight and have figured in some of the closest games of the season in the Industrial League. The Huber cagers had a holiday last Monday and are all set to go for the next three games.

Hubers Defeat Engineers

At the last meeting, Hubers defeated the Fairfield Engineers but at that time, the latter team did not have Fisher at center and presented a changed lineup in other respects.

Last week fans were treated to an excellent basketball program. This week promises another round of great games. The first will be called at 7:15. Doc King of Ohio Wesleyan will be on hand to officiate.

Here's the standing as the teams prepare for the thirteenth round:

SECOND ISALY-SHOVEL GAME WEDNESDAY NIGHT

Reserved Seats Going Rapidly; Estimate That 1,000 Cage Fans Will Attend

The second game in the Isaly Dairy-Steam Shovel basketball series is scheduled for Wednesday night on the Steam Shovel gym court. Reserved seats, on sale at Markert & Lewis, are rapidly disappearing and it is estimated that a capacity crowd of almost 1,000 cage fans will be on hand when the initial whistle blows.

The Steam Shovels won the first game of the series two weeks ago, defeating the Dairies 33 to 27, in the Star auditorium. Whether or not they can repeat the performance on their home floor is a matter of conjecture.

In the first game, Manager Bacon of the Shovels used only one sub aside from the team that started the season for him on the Shovel court. That man was Roll of the Kinnears. Roll played with the Shovels last Tuesday against the Robert-Lees of Columbus and looks like a steady on the Shovel crew for the remainder of the season.

The Dairies will probably have an original Isaly player in the lineup Wednesday night. Griffin of Bliss College, a resident of this city, will be in uniform. Fried Phillians will not be with the Dairies any more this season. He left last Wednesday for California. Bruz Robbins will probably be seen in uniform for Isalies the last time this season Wednesday night. He has been transferred to Meadville, Pa., in the employ of the Erie Railroad.

OHIO STATE FAVORED TO WIN RELAY CARNIVAL

Chicago, Feb. 21—Ohio State is favored to carry off mapor honors in the annual indoor relay carnival at the University of Illinois Saturday as a result of the fine showing made by the Buckeyes at the quadrangular meet at Northwestern Saturday night. Ohio State showed superiority in all events save the one mile relay.

BOILERMAKERS AND MACHINISTS WIN PIN GAMES

Take Three Each in Night Railway Service Matches Y. M. C. A.

Boilermakers and Machinists Saturday night won three consecutive games each from the Air and Stokers and pipe gang respectively, in the bowling matches of the Night Railway Service crew at the Y. M. C. A.

Sharrock was high scorer for the Boilermakers with 187 pins and Cochran led the Air and Stoker department with 137 points in a single game. J. Lusch of the Machinists bowled 174 and Hummer rolled 134 for the pipe gang.

CLINTON WILL MEET YOUNGSTOWN PLAYER

Baltimore, Md., Feb. 21—John A. Clinton, Jr., of Pittsburgh, defending his national amateur 18:2 balk line billiard title, will open the 1927 championship tonight in the Knights of Columbus Hall in a match with Emil Render, of Youngstown, O. The remaining contenders are Edgar T. Appleby, New York, and Percy N. Collins, Chicago, former champions; Herbert H. Hammer, New York and James M. Lewis, also of New York.

Church League Title Race Draws Attention of Fans

With only a few more games left to be played in the Junior and Intermediate Sunday School basketball leagues, interest is ever increasing in the outcome of the title race.

The Junior race is one of the closest witnessed in local church circles during the last few years. At present the First Reformed quintet is leading but Central Christians are directly on its heels. The Reforms forged one game ahead of the Christians last week when the latter team was idle. Christians have won only five games and lost one while the Reforms have won six and lost one.

Epworth M. E. and Baptist Juniors are also battling for a hold on third place. At present the Epworths are leading by one game. Presbyterians are in the cellar.

Baptists Lead Intermediates

Trinity Baptists are out in front in the Intermediate league and it looks like they'll stay there. They have played nine games and have not yet seen what a defeat looks like. Epworth M. E. comes next with six victories and three downfalls. Unless the Baptists suffer a great slump, they will never be overtaken this season.

Lutherans, after a slow start, began winning several weeks ago and won four straights before being stopped by Epworths and then by the Presbyterians. United Brethrens are in third place and Lutherans are occupying fourth position. The Lutherans were handicapped in this weeks game by the loss of Williams at Center.

Presbyterians, after losing eight straights, finally won a game Tuesday night, when they defeated the Lutherans. Calvary Evangelicals are rapidly sinking into the league depths and at the present rate will soon be tied for the cellar position with the Presbyterians.

Here's the standing in the Junior League:

Team	W.	L.	Pct.
First Reformed	6	1	.857
Christian	5	1	.833
Epworth M. E.	2	4	.333
Baptists	2	5	.285
Presbyterians	1	5	.166

Here's how they stand in the Intermediate League:

Team	W.	L.	Pct.
Baptists	9	0	1.000
Epworth	6	3	.666
U. Brethren	4	4	.500
Lutherans	4	5	.444

Amateur Cage Contest To Be Held at LaRue, Feb. 26

Drawings were to be held today at Boyd's Furniture Store, LaRue, for the amateur basketball tournament to be held in the LaRue High School gym next Saturday, Feb. 26.

Two of the eight teams which have accepted invitations to participate in the meet hail from Marion. They are the Five Brothers, composed of the Merchants of this city, and Howitzer Company. The other teams entered so far are LaRue A. C., Boyd Furnitures, Martel Lion Tamers, Huntsville Tigers, New Dover and Richwood Baptists.

The tournament is an invitation affair and is sponsored by the LaRue Athletic Association and Boyd's Furniture Store. An invitation has been sent to every team in Marion County and neighboring cities and villages. It promises to be the largest undertaking in basketball that has ever been seen in LaRue. The business men of that village are boosting the affair.

A silver loving cup will be given the winners. Their name will be engraved on it. This cup, if kept in Marion county will keep circulating among the independent amateur tournaments, according to plans of the management. Three years' possession will mean a permanent award.

The LaRue tournament is the first amateur affair of its kind this season in Marion County.

Four games will be played next Saturday afternoon and three will take place at night. The four in the afternoon will be preliminaries, the first two at night will serve as semi-finals, and then the last and greatest game of all, the final event.

The Midway Lunches of Marion received an invitation to take part in the tournament but have not yet responded. They probably will not participate.

FIRST REFORMS WILL MEET EPWORTH TONIGHT

First Reforms will meet Epworth M. E. cagers and Presbyterians will stack up against Central Christians tonight in another Junior Sunday School round. The Baptists are idle tonight. The first game will be called at 6 o'clock on the Y. M. C. A. gym court.

FIGHTERS TRAINING

Chicago, Feb. 21—Pete Latzo, welterweight champion, and Joe Simonich of Butte, Mont., scheduled to fight the ten-round main event here on March 4, will arrive in Chicago the latter part of this week to complete training, Promoter Mique Malloy announced today. They will fight at catchweights, Latzo's title not being at stake.

the Doctor says:

Don't dope Your Cough

It is not wise to use remedies which depend upon "dope" such as narcotics, chloroform, cannabis or tar products. They may stop your cough temporarily by numbing the tissues, as most cough mixtures do, but this is not enough.

The inflamed air passages must be soothed naturally, the germ-laden mucus loosened and expelled in order to effect a lasting recovery.

PERTUSSIN assists Nature to accomplish these results in a remarkably short time—and it is absolutely harmless.

Jubilee's Pardner

A Story of Boyhood Adventures

BY JUDD MORTIMER LEWIS

...that my head is all that ... clothes. If I was a na... would think every Sun... that she had to wash all ... didn't have clothes on as ... face, and no part ... has clothes on. I would ... a new skin about every ...

... was Sunday, and before ... aunt had hung her coat ... collar on it out on the ... to freeze the tails off of ... she told my mother, and ... I did my face she got me ... and held me to it while ... make me whiter than ... when she had got me scrub... down and crossways and ... she wiped my face and ... and said, "Now wash ... and get them as clean as ... And then she went out ... and I washed and ... as quick as I could; ... got them dried I kept ... rub the towel till I heard ... her feet on the scrap... I grabbed the washbasin ... the door and let fly, and ... water struck her all over ... almost drowned her, and her eyes were full of soap and she came scrambling into the kitchen and was reaching around for the towel and my grandfather had just come out into the kitchen, and my grandfather put the rag my mother wipes the stove with in my aunt's hand and she wiped the soap out of her eyes with it and she was a sight.

When she got so she could see she hollered at me, "What did you do that for?" I said, "How did I know you were in front of the door?" and I was wiping my hands on the towel and she saw it, so she looked at her hands and saw what she had used on her face, and then my grandfather went hiking through the door to get away from her. My aunt could not do anything, because the whole family laughed at her till they cried. Annabelle Lee looked at her and hollered, "Boo!" and they all yelled again.

Today me and Jubilee and the bunch went out to the woods. We found a skunk's hole, and the dogs took turns digging it out, but the ground was froze too hard, so we didn't have any luck. I said the skunk was lucky, but Banty said it wasn't any luckier than we were.

Tomorrow is a holiday.

Daily Bedtime Story

BY HOWARD GARIS

Uncle Wiggily and His Friends

One afternoon Baby Bunty, the cute ... girl, climbed up the front ... Uncle Wiggily's hollow stump ... and tapped on the door. The ... gentleman opened it.

"I've come to pay you a little visit ... night," said Baby Bunty ... little bow.

"Have you?" asked Uncle Wiggily, but he doubted, but just to ... something to say.

"Yes, I am on Bunty. "I have come ... night and here is what I ... to sleep in," and she held ... bundle wrapped in red ...

"... are going to sleep in that, ..." asked the rabbit gentleman, ... his left ear with his right ... "Well, all right, if you want ... I should think you would ... sleep in a bed, Banty, instead of ... little parcel like that. You'll be ... much cramped."

"Oh, how funny you are!" laughed ... "Of course I'm not going to use ... bundle instead of a bed. This pack... has my night gown in it!"

"Oh! That's different!" exclaimed ... Wiggily with a laugh. "In that ... come in!" He opened the door ... and soon Baby Bunty was play... with the other forty 'leven little ... children of Mr. Longear's. Jolly ... times the little rabbits had, play... the piano and hide the dining ... table and all games like that.

Pretty soon it was time to go to bed ... Baby Bunty took her little night ... out of her little bundle and went ... stairs.

All of a sudden, in the middle of the ..., Uncle Wiggily heard a crying ... coming from the room where ... Baby Bunty was sleeping with ... and Jangle, two of his own lit... rabbit girls.

"Come now, my dears! No more ...! You have had fun enough," ... the rabbit gentleman gently. "Go ... sleep. Don't play any more in bed."

"I—I'm not playing!" came the sob... voice of Baby Bunty. "I'm—now ...!"

"What are you crying for?" asked ... Wiggily.

"I'm crying 'cause I—now—got the ...!" answered the little rabbit ... "Oh, dear!"

"Well, toothache is enough to make ... cry," said Uncle Wiggily get... up to put on his dressing gown ... slippers. "But perhaps I can stop ... pain for you." He remembered how ... he had stopped the ache in the tooth of Billie Wagtail, the goat boy, by getting out Tommie Kat to pull out the tooth. "Though I can't do that now," said the rabbit gentleman to himself. "I'll get some cotton and put some medicine on that and stuff it in the hole in Bunty's aching tooth. Tomorrow I'll pull it."

But when Uncle Wiggily looked for some cotton he couldn't find a bit in the bungalow. However, he knew where, just outside the door, grew a horse chestnut tree. And though it was now winter, the tree had big blossom buds on. Inside the outer covering of each bud was a warm wrapping of cotton.

"I'll get cotton for Bunty's tooth from the horse chestnut tree," said the rabbit gentleman. He had done that before when some of his own bunnies had a pain.

Out into the dark night hopped the bunny gentleman. He reached up to a low branch of the tree and picked off some buds. Opening these buds, which were covered with sticky wax to keep out the rain, Uncle Wiggily soon had all the cotton he needed. He was just hopping back with it into the bungalow to stop Bunty's pain when, all of a sudden, the Bob Cat popped around the tree, howling:

"Now I have you, Uncle Wiggily!"

But the rabbit gentleman stuck some the sticky tree cotton on the end of the Bob Cat's nose, making him look so funny and tickling the bad chap so much that the Bob Cat turned a somersault and flopped away in the darkness, not nibbling any ears at all.

Then Uncle Wiggily put some medicine on the rest of the cotton and stuffed it into Bunty's aching tooth. The pain did not stop right away, but when Mr. Longears told how he had stuck cotton on the end of the Bob Cat's nose, and how funny he looked, Bunny laughed so much she forgot about her ache, and then she went to sleep and in the morning she was better.

So this teaches us that Bob Cats are good to stop teeth from aching, and if the hands of the clock will knit some stockings for the legs of the doll's bed, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily's snow tunnel.

As between a skull cap and a wig, a wig—if it is a good one—is probably the prettier.

Don't Risk Pneumonia By Neglecting a Cold

If you have a cough or cold, don't neglect it during this pneumonia weather. A cough or cold weakens your resistance. If you let it "go down" into your chest it always causes congestion in your bronchial tubes—and these tubes lead directly into your lungs.

If you get pneumonia, call a doctor immediately. But if you have a threatening cold or cough—even bronchitis—Ayer's Cherry Pectoral at once! End it before inflammation goes down into the "danger zone."

Quickly and unfailingly Cherry Pectoral goes straight to the seat of trouble. Real Medicine, reaching down with its healing power, penetrating through and through the irritated membranes.

With the very first swallow of Cherry Pectoral you feel its comforting warmth. The soothing, healing powers of this hospital-tested medicine are absorbed by the linings of throat, chest and bronchial tubes, just as ink is absorbed by a blotter. This is why Ayer's Cherry Pectoral so quickly stops the cough, drives out the cold and brings sure, lasting relief.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is used by doctors and hospital clinics—for children and grown people. Even sick children love its flavor. At all druggists, 50c; twice as much, $1.00. pd24b

LEGAL NOTICE

In the Court of Common Pleas of Marion County, Ohio.

In Re The First Reformed Church of Marion, Ohio.

To all whom it may concern:

Notice is hereby given that The First Reformed Church of Marion, Ohio, by its Board of Trustees on the 5th day of February, A. D. 1927, filed in the court of Common Pleas of Marion County, Ohio, its certain application and petition for leave to incumber by mortgage in a sum not exceeding fifty thousand dollars ($50,000.00) the Real Estate described as follows:

Situated in the City of Marion, County of Marion and State of Ohio.

TRACT ONE: Being part of Lots numbers six (6) and seven (7) renumbered and now known as Lots numbers two hundred eighty-three (283) and two hundred eighty-four (284) respectively, in Henry Peters' Second Addition to Marion, Ohio, and beginning at the Northwest corner of a lot formerly owned by one John Uhl and for a time used by A. B. Hess Marble Shop and in the east line of Prospect formerly West Street in said City; thence northwardly on said East line of said Prospect Street fifty-eight (58) feet to a stake; thence eastwardly parallel with what was formerly said John Uhl's North line to the West line of an alley, thence southwardly on the West line of said alley to the northeast corner of what was formerly said John Uhl's said lot fifty-eight (58) feet; thence westwardly on the north line of said (formerly) Uhl's lot to the place of beginning;

Which said premises were conveyed by John C. Markert and wife to William Fischer et al., Trustees and their successors in office in trust for The First Reformed Congregation of Marion, Marion County, in regular connection with the Reformed Church in the United States of America which body is your petitioner said The First Reformed Church of Marion, Ohio, by deed dated May 10, 1853, recorded at page 359 in volume 56 Marion County, Ohio, Deed Records:

TRACT TWO: Situated in the City of Marion, County of Marion and State of Ohio:

Being part of Lots numbers six (6) and seven (7) renumbered 283 and 284 in Henry Peters' Second Addition to Marion, Ohio: Beginning at a point in the east line of Prospect Street one hundred seventy-seven (177) feet south of the North line of said Lot number 284 being the southwest corner of lot sold by J. C. Markert to Mary A. Urton by deed dated February 25, 1891, recorded in Vol. 69 at page 287 Marion County, Ohio, Deed Records; thence east along the south line of said Urton lots one hundred sixty-five (165) feet to the west line of an alley; thence south along said West line about seventy-four and five-tenths (74.5) feet to the north line of a lot sold by J. C. Markert to the Trustees of The First Reformed Church Congregation, dated May 10, 1853, recorded in Vol. 56 at page 380, Marion County, Ohio, Deed Records; thence west along the north line of said First Reformed Congregation lot about one hundred sixty-five (165) feet to the east line of said Prospect Street; thence north along said east line about seventy-five and five-tenths (75.5) feet to the place of beginning:

Which said premises were conveyed by Charles A. Markert, et al., to John D. Jones, et al., as Trustees of The First Reformed Church of Marion, Ohio, by deed dated July 16, 1923, recorded at page 539 in volume 159, Marion County, Ohio, Deed Records:

Said Tracts One and Two above described adjoin and are contiguous the one with the other, and are located on the East side of and front on South Prospect Street between Columbia Street and Hill Street in said City.

Said application and petition will be for hearing after March 12th, 1927.

STOCK SESSION ACTIVE AND FIRM ON EXCHANGE

Many Well-Known Industrial Bonds Sell at Best Prices of Movement

New York, Feb. 21—Railroad stocks declined sharply on the stock exchange today on announcement, that the supreme court had decided against the Los Angeles and Salt Lake Railroad in the test case involving the principle of valuation of railroads for rate-making purposes. The decision was unexpected and a great surprise to Wall Street.

The railroad stocks, which have been skyrocketing recently dropped abruptly, with losses of from 1 to 10 points in well-known stocks. New York Central lost 5 points in its decline to 140 1-2 while Reading lost 10 1-2 points at 160; Missouri Pacific dropped 3; New Haven 3 and Atchison 5. Wabash was heavily sold and decline 4 points to 65.

New York, Feb. 21—Though sandwiched in between a week-end and a holiday, today's session of the stock market was active and firm, with many of the well-known industrial shares selling at the best prices of the movement, and the bulk of speculative shares resisting efforts of the bears to depress them to lower price levels.

The absence of a large number of professionals from the market in an extended week-end holiday and the unwillingness of the traders to end into new commitments in a pre-holiday session, accounted for the decline in the volume of trading. Sales in the first three hours aggregated only 1,050,000 shares, or at the rate of 1,750,000 shares a day, which was in sharp contrast with the tiotous and uproarous markets of last week.

While industrial reports were generally favorable, the January production statements of the automobile companies showed a falling off as compared with the same month last year. No new light was shed on the railroad merger situation, though the relations between Pennsylvania and Delaware & Hudson have become more distinctly defined by the filing of a proposed traffic routing agreement with the interstate commerce commission.

The money market was unchanged, with call funds offered freely at four per cent, and a moderate amount of outside loans at 3¾ per cent. The commodity markets were dull and heavy, with price changes narrow.

COFFEE FUTURES

New York, Feb. 21—The coffee futures market opened firm today. Initial prices were at net gains of 10 to 15 points. March opened at 13.90, up 15; May 13.15, up 10 and July 12.45, up 15.

NOTICE TO TAXPAYERS

Pursuant to an order of the State Tax Commission, notice is hereby given to the real property owners of Marion County, Ohio, outside of Marion City, that the values placed on all lots, lands and buildings in the county for the 1926 duplicate, as fixed by the County Auditor and the County Board of Revision, have been approved and confirmed by the Tax Commission of Ohio.

CHESS MEET IN NEW YORK

The first of the great international chess tournaments ever held in America was that staged in New York in 1880, when Michael Tschigorin of Russia divided the first and second prizes with Max Weiss of Vienna after a grueling contest. Not until fifteen years later was another masters' tournament held in the United States. This was the congress held at Cambridge Springs, Pa., in 1904, in which Frank J. Marshall, the American expert carried off the first prize of $1,000 without the loss of a single game in a total of fifteen played.

Mrs. Elizabeth Letitia Todd Thompson, whose aunt, Mary Todd, was the wife of Abraham Lincoln, was among the recipients of crosses of honor at the recent celebration of Lee's birthday in New Orleans. The cross was given in memory of her father, a Confederate soldier killed at the battle of Shiloh.

Today in Marion Markets

Groceries, Produce, Meats, Grain, Livestock

Stocks of produce on Marion markets were light today, the heavy buying of Saturday clearing out great quantities of supplies. Trading promises to be light until the snow is gone, and there will be little activity in the markets until it is gone.

Fruits and fancy vegetables moved fast Saturday, with head lettuce, green onions, celery and sweet potatoes selling especially strong. Supplies of these vegetables were very light today.

Eggs opened the week at the lowest price this winter. Fresh eggs are selling for from 32 to 35 cents a dozen. Storage eggs are selling at 27 cents a dozen and there are few offered, the low price on fresh eggs nearly closing the market of the storage variety. Dealers believe the price of fresh eggs will go but little, if any lower, and that eggs are due for an upward swing shortly.

Meat prices remain the same. Prices of beef have wavered somewhat on wholesale, but prices of dressed beef have been lowered but a trifle on some cuts in a few markets.

How Saving Leads To Success

SAVING is the first great principle of all success. It creates independence, gives a young man standing, fills him with vigorous purpose, stimulates him to do his best and be somebody in the world.

A savings account represents more than money saved. It stands for character, purpose, achievement, ambition. It is the best passport a young man can have to the good will of those who can help him along in the world.

If you haven't already started a savings account, do it at once. With one dollar and a determination to succeed, you can lay a sure foundation for future prosperity.

Let us help you. Call or write for one of our free Home banks today.
